Heat Returns Slowly For Chilled Houses

...GAS PRESSURE INCHING UPWARD

Pressure in pipelines of the Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Co. increased slowly late Wednesday, and early Thursday, gradually returning heat to many chilled Nebraska homes.

Company officials said that normal service will be resumed Thursday to all but "interruptable" industrial customers.

They said this means that schools and public buildings will be able to reopen Thursday, throughout the firm's system.

The pressure drop had sent residents using gas for fuel in a shivering search for warmer spots.

Much of central and northeast Nebraska was affected, but Coleridge, Hartington, Laurel, Wisner, Pilger and Stanton were hardest hit because of their location at the end of pipelines.

Furnaces were relit in Coleridge and Hartington late Wednesday about 15 to 20 hours after they had faltered in the sub-zero temperatures.

Keep At 65

Policeman Everett Murkle said Coleridge residents were advised to keep thermostats below 65 degrees.

"The local dance hall was ready for an emergency" at Hartington, but Cedar County Sheriff John Riide said "We didn't need it."

Some solved the problem by temporarily installing oil burners or electric heaters to prevent water pipes from freezing.

Lines Packed

Ted Kennedy, director of public relations for Kansas-Nebraska said that "since Wednesday morning we've been able to pack the lines—putting more in them than is being taken out."

The shortage occurred late Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning when the combination of prolonged frigid temperatures and high winds caused natural gas to be used at a higher rate than could be supplied.

The firm said that its lines carried their capacity of gas, but the amount wasn't sufficient to meet the demand.

The company serves a large section of central and northcentral Nebraska, central and western Kansas and northeastern Colorado.

Schools Closed

Many schools in the state were closed Wednesday at the request of the gas company to make all gas available for homes.

Schools were closed at Ord, Ravenna, Cairo, Coleridge, Holdrege, Neligh, Loup City, Litchfield, North Loup-Scotia, Burwell and Hartington, and in at least 34 other towns in the state.

Hastings College, along with many commercial users of the company's gas, switched to standby fuels.

The city auditorium and two theaters at Norfolk were thrown open to shivering residents too cold to stay at home.

York mayor O. N. Miller declared an emergency when some 200 homes were reported without heat and preparations were made at the York National Guard Armory to care for up to 1,800 persons Wednesday night.

Reports late Wednesday indicated, however, that only 8 residents from a local rest home had been brought to the armory. Gas pressure was rising gradually in the city's pipelines.

STORM CHILLS NATION

By United Press International

A brutal winter storm and one of the bitterest cold waves of the century tortured two-thirds of the nation Wednesday.

The great Arctic blast took a rising toll of lives, penetrated to the bones of millions of Americans and slowed the processes of everyday life from the Rockies to the Atlantic.

Snowdrifts piled 14 feet high in Alabama. The mercury plunged to a killing 50 below in the western mountains.

Baby Blizzards

A snowstorm swept up the Atlantic Seaboard. Great Lakes-spawned baby blizzards lashed Upstate New York.

Hundreds of thousands of school children were on cold wave vacations in at least 10 states from the Northern Rockies to Georgia. Heating emergencies affected entire communities in Nebraska, Oklahoma and Alabama.

The bitter cold set records in at least 15 cities and scores of smaller communities. It pushed the toll of weather-blamed fatalities since the vicious onslaught began last weekend to at least 95.

A United Press International count showed 19 weather deaths in Illinois, 17 in Wisconsin, 9 in Michigan, 8 in Texas, 7 in Colorado, 6 in Iowa, 4 in Missouri, 3 each in Massachusetts, Montana and New Hampshire, 2 each in Alabama, Kansas, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma and South Carolina, and 1 each in Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico and North Carolina.

The Weather

LINCOLN: Fair morning, increasing cloudiness afternoon. A little warmer. Highs mid to upper teens.

EAST AND CENTRAL NEBRASKA: Fair Thursday. A little warmer. High 15 to 25.

Feed Plant Explosions In St. Louis Fatal To 2

St. Louis, Mo. (UPI) — Back-to-back explosions ripped a feed grain processing plant Wednesday and turned its 6-story-high granary into a roaring furnace. Two men, including a fireman, died, and 37 persons were injured.

Authorities said one man was missing. They feared he might be buried in the rubble. However, authorities said he might have fled to safety with an estimated 1,000 other employes of the Ralston-Purina plant.

The injured were taken to city hospital where 23 were whisked to surgery and reported in critical condition. Hospital workers performed in two shifts. Four of the 37 injured were treated and released.

One of the dead was Fire Captain Roy Simpson, who died of an apparent heart attack while fighting the 5-alarm fire.

Also dead was John Wood, an employe at the plant.

"It was like a bomb hit us," Henry Kirksey, an injured worker, said. "There was nothing but fire, smoke and feed."

Kitts May Be Returned To Nebraska Pen Soon

By NANCY RAY
Star Staff Writer

Kenneth Kitts, slippery escape artist who made headlines through the Midwest a decade ago, may return to Nebraska in the near future.

At Wednesday hearings, the Board of Pardons and Paroles refused to commute the more than 11 years that 44-year-old Kitts has left of a 12-year Nebraska Penitentiary sentence.

The board further ordered Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer to negotiate with Federal Penitentiary Warden J. C. Taylor over the possibility of transferring Kitts from his present Leavenworth prison to Nebraska to complete a 30-year federal term and continue his Nebraska term.

KITTS . . . escape artist may be returned sooner than expected.

Taylor, in a letter to Meyer last Nov. 1, noted that federal authorities at Leavenworth were considering "a more relaxed program" for Kitts, and wished to know if Nebraska still wanted him after his federal sentence (due for completion June 3, 1964).

Taylor also indicated he might initiate steps for Kitts' transfer to the Nebraska State Penitentiary for completion of both state and federal sentences.

Kitts' Nebraska sentence was imposed in 1951 for burglary of the South Omaha Eagles Hall, after which he was convicted of burglary, possession of burglary tools, and of being a habitual criminal.

After serving 3 months of the 12-year sentence, Kitts made one of his most spectacular escapes Sept. 14, 1951, by eluding guards and crawling through a washroom window at the Douglas County Courthouse in Omaha where he was to testify as a government witness in a jewel robbery.

When FBI and local officers again arrested him in Tennessee, he was sent to the federal prison at Leavenworth to serve a 30-year term for an Iowa bank robbery, and also half a dozen shorter federal sentences at the same time.

Asked Dismissal

Now eligible for parole from the federal prison, Kitts had asked dismissal of the Nebraska detainer which would bring him back to this state to finish out the 11 years, 4 months and 4 days of his 12-year term. Under federal regulations, he would have been under federal parole restrictions until September, 1971, and had voiced the wish to go to California, obtain a job as a heavy equipment operator, and live with a close relative.

Kitts' escapades in the Midwest 10 years ago included a Laurens, Ia., bank robbery in 1950 in which more than $65,000 in cash and travelers' checks were taken; an escape from the Linn County jail in Cedar Rapids, Ia., and recapture in an Omaha trailer camp; and an abortive attempt to tunnel out of the Nebraska Penitentiary.

Skirmish Lines Drawn For Impending Tussles

...State Of The Union Message Thursday

By DOUGLAS B. CORNEL

Washington (AP) — Congress opened a new session with beaming, backslapping good will, installed a new speaker of the House and told President Kennedy Wednesday it was ready to buckle down to business.

Kennedy's ideas of what the business should be will be sketched out Thursday. He will deliver his State of the Union Message in person then, in the House chamber, shortly after 11:30 p.m. CST.

As it looks now, the big squabbles will center around administration bills for such things as tariff-cutting authority, medical care for the aged under Social Security, aid to education, farm legislation, more spending, tax changes, foreign aid, and the federal purchase of $100 million in bonds to help the United Nations out of a financial jam.

It Will Be Brief

With these and perhaps other controversial proposals in the offering, the mood still was one of gay camaraderie, if only for the moment.

Senate and House members held various off floor meetings for assorted purposes. They roamed the Capitol greeting fellow legislators they hadn't seen for 3 months.

Democrats and Republicans were smiling and saying nice things about one another. In the House, there was a note of sadness along with gladness at the ending of an era and the start of a new career.

For the first time since 1913, Sam Rayburn of Texas was absent from the halls of Congress. The man who was speaker far longer than any other died in November.

McCormack Elected

Seventy-year-old John W. McCormack, who served as Democratic leader under Rayburn for 21 years, was elected speaker amid standing ovations and salvos of bipartisan acclaim.

The entire Democratic leadership in the House moved up a notch, Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, the party whip, took over the leadership post from McCormack. Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., was tapped to become the new whip, a job which involves rounding up members for crucial votes.

The only contest over a leadership role in either Senate or House involved the chairmanship of the Senate Republican Policy Committee. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts challenged Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa for the position left open by the death of Styles Bridges of New Hampshire. Hickenlooper came out on top 21 to 14, at a party caucus behind closed doors.

New Senate Member

The Senate swore in a new member, Maurice J. Murphy Jr., a new Hampshire Republican, who was appointed to the Bridges vacancy. At 34, he is the youngest senator.

In the House, 3 of 8 vacancies were filled when the oaths of office were given to Joe D. Waggoner of Louisiana, Henry B. Gonzalez of Texas and Lucien N. Nedzi of Michigan—all Democrats. That left 5 vacancies, all in seats previously filled by Democrats.

Numberically, the Democrats have a comfortable lead of 64 to 36 over the Republicans in the Senate and 258 to 174 in the House.

NETWORKS TO AIR MESSAGE

New York (AP) — The nation's 3 major networks — NBC, ABC, and CBS — have scheduled live television and radio coverage Thursday of President Kennedy's State of the Union message starting at 11:30 a.m. CST.

McCormack Wonderful, Promising Rookie At 70

...New Speaker Still Eager

By ARTHUR EDSON

Washington (AP) —At an age when most men have been retired for years, John W. McCormack embarked Wednesday on a new career as speaker of the House, a promising 70-year-old rookie.

Standing there addressing the House, of which he has been a member since Nov. 6, 1928, McCormack was a wonderful illustration of the harsh facts of legislative life.

Representatives who are mere striplings of 50 or 60 had further evidence of what they learned long ago: to get anywhere in this business you've got to have incredible fortitude and patience.

Remains Eager

Well, McCormack has that—and he has managed to remain eager and bustling to boot.

So it must have galled him, after all these years, to read news stories declaring that now Sam Rayburn is dead the Democrats must depend on untested leadership. Untested? What does it take to become a veteran in this league, anyway?

But all gall was carefully buried Wednesday.

During these opening sessions of Congress everybody loves everybody. The vote for speaker is strictly along party lines, but the words are treacle and molasses.

Coincidence

By an interesting coincidence, Charles Halleck of Indiana was the Republican choice for speaker.

For years now Halleck and McCormack, who has been the Democratic signal caller on the floor, have tangled regularly on every issue. Possibly no two members of the House have twitted each other so constantly and, at times, so bitterly.

But all that was forgotten Wednesday. Well, maybe not forgotten, but carefully pushed under the rug.

Halleck was the first to jump up and applaud when McCormack was nominated. It was he who made the welcoming speech when McCormack won.

Of his old sparring partner, Halleck now grandly said:

"He may find it a little difficult to move from the tempest and tumult of the well of the House to the serenity of the speaker, but I daresay he'll do it with dispatch."

Car, 2 Trucks Collide; Shelby Man Is Killed

Shelby (AP)—Lloyd Scow, 50, of Shelby was killed and his wife seriously injured in a car-truck accident about a mile east of Shelby on U.S. 30A and State 92 Wednesday afternoon.

Officials said the collision involved the eastbound car driven by Scow and two westbound trucks.

One truck was a semi-trailer loaded with grain, driven by Frank Pribble of Akron, Colo., and the other was a truck driven by Ivan Newell of Omaha which was pulling a trailer house.

Officials said it appeared the grain truck hit the trailer house from the rear and the trailer and the Scow car then collided.

The death was the 9th on Nebraska highways this year. The toll on Jan. 10 of last year was 6.

Immediate Annexation Urged For Four Areas

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The City-County Planning Commission Wednesday strongly urged Lincoln's "immediate annexation" of 4 areas totalling some 5 square miles.

Designated in the unanimous recommendation to the City Council were:

—a West O area (comprising about 4 square miles) extending from Lincoln north to West Lincoln, west to the Interstate Highway and south to approximately West G extended.

—the Lincoln Chamber Industrial Development Corporation's 308-acre industrial tract on U.S. Hwy. 77 at the south edge of the city.

—the 400-acre Sias Industrial Tract, on which is located Union Airport, on North 56th extended at the northeastern edge of the city.

—the School District-City Park property at 70th and A.

In recommending annexation of these areas "without further delay," the commission re-stated its recommended policy for "an aggressive and progressive annexation program by Lincoln."

"The guiding principle should be that when an area adjoining Lincoln reaches urban development and requires municipal utilities, it should be immediately annexed," the commission said.

The commission also instructed Planning Director Douglas Brogden to study other areas contiguous to the city for future annexation recommendations.

The Cornhusker Highway area is a future possibility, but the commission is on record as favoring a delay until U.S. Hwy. 6 (Cornhusker Hwy.) is enlarged to 4 lanes by the state—"probably within the next two years."

Other Possibilities

Also indicated as future possibilities are the Yankee Hill area and West A urban development.

Brogden pointed out that the Sias Tract and the West O area are already within the Lincoln School District, but that the LCIDC industrial tract is not.

The Sias Tract favors annexation. The LCIDC "industrial park" will require water and sewer utilities from the city, but proposes a 5-year annexation delay or until 50% occupied by industry.

An annexation ordinance for the LCIDC tract is pending before the council, but has been opposed by the Chamber of Commerce and its industrial development corporation.

X15 Rocket Plane Lands Safely After Engine Fails

Pilot Petersen Dumps Fuel, Glides Down

Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. (AP)—An X15 rocket plane made a safe emergency landing Wednesday after its engine failed to light when it was dropped from a bomber.

Pilot Forrest Petersen, making his last flight in the famed edge-of-space research craft, dumped his fuel and glided down onto Mud Lake, Nev., 200 miles from this flight test center where it normally comes down.

Petersen is a native Nebraskan and his parents live at Gibbon, Neb.

"I guess you never expected to see me here," Petersen told the 5-man recovery crew that greeted him when he stepped out of his craft.

He wore a grin as he made his exit, and left promptly by plane to return to Edwards Air Force Base.

He said he didn't know why

CMDR. FORREST PETERSEN

the engine failed to start and he was never worried.

It was the first time in 47 flights of 3 X15 planes that the engine had failed to ignite. Once previously Pilot Joe Walker failed to light it on the first try, but got it on the second.

Wednesday Petersen, dropped at 45,000 feet from the wing of a B52, couldn't make it on either of two tries. He then did what his alternate flight plan called for him to do: Dive for Mud Lake.

He was supposed to zoom at 3,880 miles an hour to 117,000 feet, then plunge back into the atmosphere in one of a series of tests to determine whether it is safer for re-entering craft to dive in nose first and pull out, or hit flat. He was to try the flat technique.

Petersen, 39, a Navy commander, was on his fifth run in the X15. He is being transferred to Miramar Naval Air Station at San Diego to command a fighter squadron.

The X15, which set a speed mark of 4,090 miles an hour last year, is expected next March to shoot to 250,000 feet (47 miles), its designed height limit. Later flights may go even higher, perhaps to 100 miles.

Blast At Mine Traps 11 Men Underground

Carterville, Ill. (AP)—An explosion ripped through a coal mine Wednesday night, shooting mangled steel out of the shaft opening and trapping 11 miners under ground.

The 11 men, the entire night shift at the mine, were trapped, authorities said, in a horizontal tunnel which leads away from the bottom of the mine shaft. The shaft is 168 feet deep.

Rescue workers said shortly after midnight that no communication had been established with the trapped miners and there was no way of knowing if they were alive.

A tangle of wreckage in the shaft at a depth of 40 feet forced a two-man rescue team back to the surface in the first attempt to reach the miners.

One of the men who decended in an emergency elevator said: "There's so much smoke you couldn't see anything down there."

No cause for the blast in the Blue Blaze Coal Co. mine 3 miles northeast of Carterville was learned, authorities said. The mine is in a rural area.

An estimated 2,000 to 3,000 spectators crowded near the site of the explosion, in Williamson County, about 85 miles southeast of St. Louis.

HICKENLOOPER GETS REPUBLICANS' NOD

...Heads Senate GOP Policy Committee

Washington (AP)—Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa was elected chairman of the Senate GOP policy committee Wednesday, giving Midwestern Republicans 3 major leadership posts.

Hickenlooper, backed solidly by GOP conservatives, succeeds the late Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire.

He won out over Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, who continues as chairman of the Conference of All Republican Senators.

Hickenlooper

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader, said the vote at a closed party caucus was 21-14. The vote was by secret balot, Dirksen said, and no breakdown was announced.

Contest of "Images"

Sen. George. D. Aiken of Vermont, a leader of the GOP liberal group, has said there is little difference in the voting records of Saltonstall and Hickenlooper, but the contest was pictured as one between two "images."

Saltonstall, the only eastern senator holding a key party post, was re-elected chairman of the Conference of All Republican Senators last year had sought elevation to the more influential policy committee chairmanship.

Young Secretary

In addition to Dirksen and Hickenlooper, the Midwestern Republicans are represented in key posts by Sen. Milton R. Young of North Dakota, who is secretary of the GOP conference.

Another conservative, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, is chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, generally regarded as favorable to the more liberal wing of the party, was elected assistant floor leader last year and continues in that post.

As one of the first fruits of his victory, Hickenlooper took over the Senate desk once used by Daniel Webster. The third row seat lately had been occupied by Bridges.

More Members Quit Cosmos Club After Negro Is Barred

Washington (AP) — Some more members quit the elite Cosmos Club Wednesday because it barred a Negro official of the State Department from membership. And President Kennedy passed the word that he does not want in.

Bruce Catton, civil war historian, said he was mailing a letter of resignation.

"I have strong feelings on this subject," he said, "and I figure this is my cue to get out."

Harlan Cleveland, assistant secretary of state, also resigned. And it was reported that Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner, Kennedy's top scientific adviser, was planning to do likewise, although Wiesner could not be reached for comment.

The White House made plain that Kennedy's nomination for membership in the 83-year-old social club is not likely to be revived.

J. Kenneth Galbraith, U.S. ambassador to India who had proposed Kennedy for membership, resigned from the club Tuesday because it had turned down Carl Rowan, a Negro who is deputy assistant secretary of state for public affairs. With Galbraith's resignation, the Kennedy application automatically died.

The club has admitted Negro guests of members to its club rooms but Rowan was the first, so far as members can recall, who ever was proposed for membership.

Gas From Canada For Minnesota, Dakota Studied

Omaha (AP) — An Omaha firm of consulting engineers is holding meetings with communities in North Dakota and Minnesota to study the prospects of bringing them natural gas from Canada.

W. A. Richardson, executive vice president of Henningson, Durham, Richardson, Inc., said a representative of the firm is holding meetings with about 20 municipalities in east central North Dakota and western Minnesota to see if their interest in natural gas service is sufficient to justify in proceeding with the plan.

Grain Elevator Bursts In Texas

Amarillo, Tex. (AP) — A metal grain elevator containing 650,000 bushels of wheat burst in 2 degree below zero weather Wednesday night.

Officials of the Producers Grain Corp. said damage would be about $195,000. When the elevator burst, the explosion shook houses for some distance around. Electricity was cut off in a 15 block area for a short time when a piece of metal severed a power line.

BRIDGES' WIDOW WILL SEEK POST

Concord, N.H. (AP)—Mrs. Styles Bridges, who for 17 years shared the spotlight with her politically powerful late husband, Wednesday announced her candidacy for the last 4 years of his U.S. Senate term.

Her announcement set the stage in this traditionally Republican state for what could be a bitter intraparty fight in the September GOP primary.

The attractive 46 year old widow, considered politically conservative as was her husband, said she felt her years at his side gave her the qualifications to carry on his objectives and philosophy.

Rep. Perkins Bass, R-N.H., announced Tuesday he would seek the nomination and, perhaps looking ahead to Mrs. Bridges' announcement, described himself as "a moderate and not an extremist."

The state's other Congressman, Rep. Chester E. Merrow, R, can't be counted out yet. He has said he is considering whether to enter the primary.

Liberte Won't Be Floating Hotel At U.S. Fair After All

Lugano, Switzerland (AP) — The French luxury liner Liberte will be broken up for scrap in the next few days, a spokesman for her present owners said Wednesday night.

Aldo Baggi, administrator of the India trading and transport establishment, told newsmen it was out of the question that the liner be used as a floating hotel during the Seattle World's Fair.

He said the company's shareholders definitely decided to scrap the ship and "it is not possible to change this decision. The ship is already on her way to La Spezia (northern Italy) where she will be broken up in a few days."

Reports from Le Havre, the French port, said the ship was still tied up there Wednesday night, however.

B52H Seeks Flight Record

Omaha (UPI) — A U.S. Air Force jet bomber, trying for a world distance record without refueling, knifed across the United States Wednesday night on an Okinawa to Spain flight.

The B52H, which took off from Kadena Air Base on Okinawa in the western Pacific at 10 a.m. EST, sped over Fort Worth, Tex., at 11:30 p.m. EST, Strategic Air Command (SAC) headquarters here announced.

SAC said the crew of 8, commanded by Maj. Clyde P. Evely, 39, Petersburg, Va., hoped to cover 12,519 miles without refueling and land at Toreejon Air Base near Madrid, Spain, at 8:30 a.m. EST.

Flying conditions could make 30 minutes difference one way or the other in the estimated time of arrival, SAC officials said.

Passengers On Airliner Downed By Russians Get VIP Treatment

Moscow (AP)— Passengers of a Belgian airliner forced down Monday by rocket-armed MIG fighters said Wednesday that, once aground, they received excellent treatment from the Russians.

"We had a wonderful reception," said Mrs. Charles Wiemer of New York on this third day of an involuntary visit to the Soviet Union.

The comment was typical of the reaction among 18 passengers and two stewardesses of the Belgian plane, which encountered compass trouble and then the MIGs on a flight from Tehran to Istanbul.

The group was flown to Moscow aboard a special Soviet airliner from the southern oil city of Grozny. It was to a military field near Grozny that the MIGs had guided their plane, a Sabena Airlines twin-jet Caravelle.

Assigned overnight to a suburban Moscow hotel, the Ostankino, they are expected to fly on to Brussells Thursday.

The Caravelle also is free to leave Grozny, which is 275 miles north of the Soviet-Turkish frontier and 900 miles south of Moscow. But a Belgian Embassy spokesman said mechanical trouble would delay its takeoff overnight. Cmdr. Alfred Moureau and the rest of the flight crew stayed with it.

Mrs. Wiemer and her husband, a construction engineer, were among 4 Americans in the group. The others are Emile Hadad, a Los Angeles rug salesman, and Hadad's son.

Hadad told newsmen? "Everyone was very kind to us."

Wiemer emphasized "We were never fired upon."

Woman Injured In Head-On Collision

Mrs. John E. Gilmere, 17, of 1030 G, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital early Thursday following a head-on collision, but a hospital spokesman said she would not remain as a patient.

Police said Mrs. Gilmere was a passenger in a car driven by her 18-year-old husband which collided with one operated by Charles L. Knudtson, 48, of 6015 Vine. Gilmere was eastbound, Knudtson westbound and attempting to turn into his driveway when the accident occurred, police said.

CAR HITS POLE

A power pole at 14th St. and Military Road was broken off Wednesday night when struck by a car. The driver of the car apparently was not injured and left the scene before sheriff's deputies arrived. He left the car, which the deputies ordered towed in.

Swanky Bus Stop Halts Traffic

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Seward — If you gotta sweat out a school bus—in this weather such terminology ain't so hot — do it in style.

Like maybe the Tuma sisters, who may have Nebraska's swankiest shelter house for their morning wait.

paint and colorful curtains are so striking they are continually stopping other traffic besides the bus.

"You'd be surprised how many folks, especially elderly couples, drive into the yard to inspect the little place," remarked Dave Tuma.

Former Playhouse

Actually the waiting center for daughters Barbara, Susan and Jenny is their former playhouse. But when the general contractor and his family moved south of Seward in September, its use was converted by locating it alongside state Highway 127.

For sightliness it beats by far the old car bodies and former chicken houses in which scores of other rural students find daily protection. In fact, it enhances the appearance of the Tumas' new house.

"Some people think I set it there for advertising," Tuma quipped, "but the last thing I want to build is playhouses —even for bus stops."

G.I. Fertilizer Company Among 8 Plants Sold

Kansas City (AP) — Spencer Chemical Co. has announced it will acquire 8 fertilizer manufacturing companies in Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska and Arkansas.

Spencer has offered 119,691 shares of its common stock for the stock or assets of the firms, the announcement said.

The companies, which had aggregate net earnings of $315,000 in the latest fiscal year, are: Ark-Mo-Plant Food Co. Inc., Corning, Ark.; Cornland Plant Foods Inc., Grinnell, Iowa; Farm Belt Fertilizer & Chemical Co., Kansas City, Kan.; Laplata Chemical Co., Ind., Laplata, Mo.; Lincoln Service and Supply Inc., Grand Island, Neb.; North-Ag Chemical & Supply Co., Forest City, Iowa; Snyder Chemical Co. Inc., Topeka, Kan., and Tri-State Fertilizer Co., Burlington, Iowa.

The firms produce granulated fertilizer.

Brakeman Injured In Fall From Boxcar

Lexington (UPI) — Hal H. Smith, 50, a Union Pacific brakeman, was injured here Wednesday when he fell from a boxcar during a switching operation.

MUD Workers In Compressor Room Injured

Omaha (AP) — Two men were injured Wednesday in a fire which broke out in a compressor room which processes gas from a huge Metropolitan Utilities District underground storage cavern.

The fire was quickly brought under control.

Injured were Dennis B. McDermott and Bob Hunt.

A utilities district spokesman said the two were shutting down the compressor at the time the fire broke out. He said the cause had not yet been determined. Damage was not great, he said.

The compressor is a link between the underground storage cavern at 63rd and Oak Streets and city gas mains. The cavern holds more than 7½ million gallons of propane gas.

The spokesman said the fire would not affect the supply of gas available in the city.

Keeping School Open Favored

Broadwater (AP) — Broadwater voters rejected by 97 against to 60 for a proposal that the city's high school be closed at the end of the current school year.

If the school were closed, students would have to contract with other districts for their education.

Feeders Are Told Of Stake In Industry

Weston (AP) — Gov. Frank Morrison told members of the Saunders County Livestock Feeders Association here they had an interest and a stake in the industrial development of Nebraska.

"As more jobs are created, there will be more money in circulation, resulting in increased markets for everyone," the governor told a crowd of some 300 persons.

He also said, "We shouldn't get too disturbed about things like the common market or that we are importing more goods from European countries, because our exports to those countries are increasing too."

Morrison said we are selling far more to these European nations than we are importing, adding that as the standard of living of other countries increases, it creates new and expanded markets for the livestock industry.

He told the livestock feeders they will have to adjust to technological changes in their industry though, just as other industries must.

Broken Bow — New president of the Broken Bow Chamber of Commerce is Tedd C. Huston who succeeds J. Roy Fauquet.

Farm Hiring At Seasonal Low

The Nebraska Division of Employment of the State Labor Department reported that farm hiring in the state is at a seasonal low point, with only a few orders received for permanent men and some for livestock care and feeding.

In a farm labor bulletin, the division noted that snow and cold weather throughout the month of December has prohibited most field work throughout the state.

At the present time corn fields on the bottom land in Nemaha and Richardson Counties are approximately 50% harvested, the division said.

Certified Seed Potato Output Down For State

Production of certified seed potatoes declined in Nebraska last year.

The State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics Wednesday reported that 1961 production totaled 282,129 hundredweight, down 10% from the 314,165 hundredweight produced in 1960, and only slightly more than half of the 10-year average of 480,151.

A total of 2,271 acres of potatoes were accepted for certification in 1961, compared with 2,420 acres in 1960 and a 10-year average of 3,954.

$80,000 Issue On Valparaiso Ballot

Lincoln Star Special

Valparaiso — Residents of Valparaiso will go to the polls Feb. 6 to vote on a $80,000 bond issue, proposed for school construction.

The funds would be used for the building and furnishing of a 4 classroom addition to be used for grade school children.

Need for additional classrooms arose from increased enrollments within the district and the addition of several rural districts to the Valparaiso school district, officials said.

A general meeting for all residents of the Valparaiso school district will be held Friday night, Jan. 19, at 8 p.m. to explain the details of the bond election and construction program.

Bank Board Post Goes To Millard

Omaha (AP) — W. B. Millard Jr., president of the Omaha National Bank since 1949, was named chairman of the board to succeed W. Dale Clark, who is retiring after a 53-year career in banking.

Clark is chairman of the board of the World Publishing Co., publisher of the Omaha World-Herald. Clark was named to the bank's advisory council.

Morris F. Miller was advanced to the presidency succeeding Millard.

Washington Tempo Up

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Once again Washington, D.C., is its old familiar city of activity and political intrigue. And in the months ahead the legislators gathered there will be taking action affecting the lives of all of us. Some of this action we will hardly even notice because of its indirect influence upon us but other parts of it will be highly significant even in our day-to-day living. The lines of battle in the Senate will be drawn between 64 Democrats and 36 Republicans. In the House there are 258 Democrats, 174 Republicans and five vacancies.

Tough Going For JFK

Any recollection of last year will tell you that this second session of the 87th Congress will be far from the cut-and-dried affair that the party split might indicate on the surface. When the roll is called on much of the upcoming legislation, it will show a much more even balance as between conservatism and liberalism. It is this ideological split that is important, not the party split. It is of even greater significance this year because of the complexion of the House where much of the progressive program of the administration was hamstrung last year.

There is a new leadership in the House with Massachusetts Democrat John W. McCormack assuming the reins left dangling with the death of former Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas. With the House serving as the stumbling block to much of what Kennedy wanted even when the powerful Rayburn was in control, it is expected that the administration will find it even tougher sledding there this session.

And a host of important items are on the agenda. Well known are such things as a proposed increase in the national debt limit from its present ceiling of $298 billion, medical care for the aged under Social Security, aid to education, tax revisions but not any general cut in the rate, a hike in postal rates, changes in the farm program and reciprocal trade changes.

Lesser known are programs governing communications satellites, the anti-trust laws and the Taft-Hartley Act, federal welfare programs, the fine arts, transportation, resources, urban affairs and others. For the first time, the nation will face a change in reciprocal trade agreements with the understanding that some U.S. industries might be adversely affected. But while admitting this, the administration sees a far greater danger in this nation's eventual loss of all foreign markets through the growing trend toward pockets of international trade unity—exemplified in the six-nation Common Market of Europe which Britain may soon be entering to the shattering of all precedent.

In this and all the other issues that will be faced by the nation's lawmakers, it is hoped that calm reason can prevail. The state of international affairs and our own national situation are not such as to permit without grave consequences any waste of energy and any action based on popularity ratings and emotion. The American people will be making a sad mistake if they try to catalogue each and every issue according to one or another strict political complexion and toss it in or out on that basis. We cannot afford not to buy United Nations simply because it might be considered a program to the liking of the liberal elements of our society.

Nor can we afford not to buy these bonds because Russia and the rest of the Red empire are not providing their fair share of support to the United Nations. We can afford not to buy them only if, in our best impartial judgment, it is to the best interest of the United States to let the U.N. suffer and possibly die with its financial problems.

But in any such judgment we must consider the advantages of the U.N. as well as its disadvantages and what some of the alternatives might be. Without it, we are at even further arm's length from any meeting grounds whatsoever with the communist menace. Without it, the gulf between war and peace is even wider and the chances of an amicable solution to world problems that much less.

In the same way, we cannot afford to look at any problem or proposal without honest consideration of all the alternatives and all possible ramifications. It is not enough to say that the national debt constitutes a mortgage upon future generations and its expansion, therefore, is unfair to our children. We must see what is the inheritance we give them without any expansion and make a choice between the two things. From all directions the signs point to a rapidly changing social, economic and political order in this nation as well as throughout the world.

Weighing All Elements

It would be most unfortunate to meet these changes with an emotional outburst of partisanship. It is hoped that we can recognize in the months ahead the nature and scope of the challenge that faces us and not shrink from the responsibility this places upon us. Nothing will ever again be exactly what it was, but rather, what we deliberately make it by our actions.

"Gun Bearers!"

DREW PEARSON

CIA Chief Active In War Earnings

WASHINGTON—With eight high officials fired from the Eisenhower administration for conflicts of interest, it would seem mandatory that both Democrats and Republicans take a very close look at the conflict-of-interest issue before appointing and confirming new men.

John A. McCone, picked to replace Allen Dulles as head of the vitally important Central Intelligence Agency, has a record which is interesting on three counts:

1. He has made more money out of Uncle Sam on war contracts than perhaps any other man now working for the government.

2. He has had a continuing close financial connection with the Henry J. Kaiser interests to which, as under secretary for air, he gave a very interesting quickie contract for making flying boxcars (C-119) in the record time of 10 days, at a price three times greater than that of Kaiser's competitor, Fairchild.

3. He is shrewd and able, which accounts not only for his capacity for making money but for his agility in keeping high government positions under both Republicans and Democrats.

When McCone came up for confirmation as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission on July 3, 1958, he let slip one interesting fact which puts him in a position of having had a possible conflict of interest. Answering a question from Sen. Clinton Anderson (D-NM), he said:

"Yes, I have some business relationships with Kaiser, inasmuch as a jointly owned company, 25 per cent of which is owned by Hendy (Joshua Hendy Corp. of which McCone owns all the stock) and 50 per cent is owned by Kaiser Aluminum, has a long-range contract to transport Kaiser's bauxite from Jamaica to Baton Rouge."

Yet when McCone was being investigated by the late Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) and the Senate Armed garding his quickie C-119 contract to Kaiser, he claimed: "I have had no business relationship with Kaiser for years . . ."

Nonetheless, Senator Bridges showed that McCone went to amazing lengths to switch part of a C-119 flying boxcar contract away from Fairchild in Hagerstown, Md., to Kaiser at Willow Run, Mich., at a cost figure which turned out to be $1,339,140 per plane as against Fairchild's $260,000.

A third congressional hearing, Sept. 25, 1946, shows the close financial kinship between McCone and Kaiser and why it was possible for Kaiser to barge in on McCone, have luncheon with him, and walk out with a multimillion-dollar contract as good as signed.

This third hearing probed the phenomenal war profits rolled up by both McCone and Kaiser when they were shipbuilding partners during the war, and when they parlayed an investment of $100,000 into a profit of $4,423,000.

McCone was then president of the California Shipbuilding Co., organized about one year before Pearl Harbor when Todd shipbuilding put up $50,000, with another $50,000 coming from the Betchel - McCone - Parsons Company, Henry Kaiser, and other companies associated with Kaiser and Betchel-McCone in building Boulder Dam.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

To Your Good Health

"Dear Dr. Molner: What does 'mastoid involvement' mean? Can it be cured? Is it chronic? Is it serious?—I.C."

Twenty or 30 years ago I would have had to say, "Yes, this is serious and there isn't any cure except by difficult surgery."

Dr. Molner

Today my answer is somewhat different, I say, "Yes, this is serious — but with prompt care most cases will NOT require Surgery."

The sides of the skull, back of the ears, are honeycombed with a network of small apertures or "caves" in the bone.

Apparently this is nature's way of providing protection for the inner portions of the ear and at the same time not making the skull too heavy.

Ordinarily this is good, but when an infection develops in the region of the ear, sometimes it spreads into this myriad of small cavities.

This can be called "mastoiditis" or "mastoid involvement." Either way, it means that the infection has established itself there.

An infected finger, or even an infected throat, or other similar area, is accessible. We can apply drugs which will help destroy the germs that are causing the infection.

The honeycombed mastoid area is not similarly accessible.

Some years ago, the only recourse was to go into it by surgery, remove such infected cells as could be reached, and then provide a pathway for drainage, letting nature gradually drive out the remainder of the infection.

Today such operations are not nearly so frequent. The reason? We now have the antibiotics, which, after being given either by injection or in pill form can do their germ-fighting work without being applied directly to the infection.

Mastoiditis (or involvement, or infection, whatever term you prefer) is as dangerous as it ever was. The difference is that it usually can be controlled and conquered if treated soon enough.

When it has been neglected too long, or when the infection has extended too deeply into the area, then surgery still is necessary. But the surgery itself is much safer and more effective, not to mention being less disfiguring, than it was years ago.

Impaired hearing, the various aches and pains and fatigue that will come with any chronic infection, and in extreme cases a risk of critical danger, are the possible consequences of ignoring such a condition. But living in the age we do, we are fortunate that in most cases drug treatment now is sufficient.

☆ ☆ ☆

More and more people are recognizing that "heart trouble" is a mighty broad term. This is gratifying. People are becoming so much better informed on health problems than they were a generation ago, or even a few years ago.

One result is that my readers are asking much more specific questions, like this one:

"Dear Doctor: What is the difference between auricular fibrillation and premature contractions of the heart? Is there a cure? — Mrs. F. R."

Auricular fibrillation (fibrillation can be described as a light, rapid quivering instead of a solid, concerted beat) is what we call "an irregular irregularity." The auricles (upper chambers of the heart) receive the impulse to beat at an irregular pace. The ventricles (lower chambers) receive their impulses at a different rate, also irregular.

Control of auricular fibriluation is the goal — control, because of the difficulty in finding a cure for the basic problem. Drugs such as digitalis or quinidine are frequently used for this.

Premature contractions, on the other hand, are an occasional irregularity in which the auricle (or more often the ventricle) receives an off-rhythm impulse to beat.

Premature contractions are usually caused by some toxic condition, such as resulting from excess coffee or tobacco; certain nervous states; or by the presence of infection.

The premature contractions can be eliminated (and cured) by getting rid of the cause. Only occasionally does this irregularity require drug treatment, other than those used to combat the underlying infection, nervous condition, or other cause.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What is normal blood sugar level in a man about 70 years old? He has been diabetic for several years, but at present has realized a drop in count to 85. Is this low count dangerous? Also, in the case of albumin, is the patient allowed meat and eggs in the diet?—M.E."

A blood sugar value of less than 120 before breakfast is considered normal. Hence at 85 I would consider this man's case as being in excellent control. (Pills are most likely to be useful among diabetics 50 years of age and over.)

As to albumin the loss (via urine) has to be replaced because protein is necessary in maintaining the tissues. I would say that therefore an egg a day and an average serving of meat is quite allowable. If your doctor has reasons, unknown to me, for thinking otherwise, follow his instructions.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Your Four Cents Worth

Brevity in letters is requested, but length in itself will have no bearing on publication. Writers are advised that needless details and repetitious matter will be edited out of letters. Too frequent contributions from one person on the same subject may be rejected. All letters must be accompanied by writer's true name but may be submitted for publication under a pen name or initials. However, letters will be printed under a pen name or initials only at the editor's discretion.

Disagreements

Ashland, Neb.

For years we enjoyed The Lincoln Star with those scintillating and keenly analytical editorials of your great predecessor, the late James E. Lawrence. Your latest attack on the governor of Nebraska is a measure of the degraded state of the present editorial page. Most newspapers strive to maintain a sense of dignity, balance and decency, relying on some wit and sparkle to make their comment palatable—even to those who disagree. You used such words as "hoggy" in describing the governor of our state. If such a harangue as yours appeared in one of the letters columns, it would be labeled as "crackpot" and not worthy of considerations.

Similar attacks over the last three years suggest that you belong on some other paper where you can sabotage the Democratic party to your heart's content. Our governor, Frank Morrison, has the respect and the deep affection of many in Nebraska and in the nation. Regardless of political affiliation, a great majority recognize his sincere and untiring efforts to make Nebraska an even greater state than it is. They understand the huge problems confronting the governor and to them your attack is offensive and in very bad taste.

Your temerity in trying to destroy an outstanding administration to satisfy what must be your own personal feud is far from worthy of the great traditions of The Lincoln Star. Would you consider a suggestion that you pause and seriously try to gain a new perspective in your work?

FRANCIS V. ROBINSON

Lincoln, Neb.

I would like to cram the editorial on Gov. Morrison down your throat and see you choke. Any more articles in this vein and you may be sorry.

Mr. Morrison is the best governor we have ever had in Nebraska. I have been here a long time.

MRS. J. W. STATON

Low-Income Group

Lincoln, Neb.

In January, 1961, New Jersey voters enabled the state's elderly property owners in lower income brackets to receive a property tax exemption of $800. Voters approved the constitutional amendment in a statewide referendum by a margin of nearly four to one. Legislation made possible by the amendment's approval will allow property owners over 65 with annual incomes of less than $5,000 to receive an exemption based on the assessed valuation of their homes.

I quote from the 1961 National Retired Teachers' Association magazine. Property taxes in Nebraska produce 28.8 per cent of the state's total revenue, highest in the nation.

I hope the Legislative Study Committee will try to see what might be done in Nebraska for elderly people with small annual incomes.

TAXPAYER

Governor's Visits

Lexington, Neb.

The series of articles on state institutions by Nancy Ray has been most informative and helpful, and we do appreciate this information given to us by The Star.

Your editorial on January 4 was most confusing. After rereading it, we were still puzzled as to its purpose and motive. The governor has been in our city twice this past year dedicating a new high school building and welcoming new industry. On both occasions he has come with dignity, spoken sincerely, and was truly admired and respected by all who saw and heard him.

DEMOCRAT

Early History

Hastings, Neb.

The Montana Historical Society has now furnished me with information concerning that wagon train I thought might be my grandfather's. It wasn't and I am glad that he escaped what that wagon train failed to do. It was attacked by the Cheyenne Indians and the person in charge of those 36 wagons was none other than 19-year-old Nat Hedges, whose firm name was Hedges & Co., a firm of three brothers.

But when that wagon train reached Powder River, Crazy Horse who was chief of the Cheyennes attacked and Nat Hedges was killed. The rest of the members of the train escaped with their scalps still on their heads. They didn't come back for another load of provisions, however.

My grandfather, it is held, took the round-about way of reaching Virginia City. He went by way of Salt Lake City and kept out of all Indian territories. He did not believe in breaking a treaty with the Indians, for the government had made one with Red Cloud, chief of the Sioux, in which it agreed to keep Indian reservations secure from any white man's invasion that would scare away the great northern herd of buffalo.

CECIL E. MATTHEWS

The Paper Storm

According to Newsweek, American consumers are in debt to the extent of $290 billion upon which they annually pay $15 billion in interest. If confronted with that information the late Sitting Bull would have said, "That's heap wampum."

In terms of population it is to say that the mortgage is $1,611 per capita.

This flight from hard money, this bargaining away the future would bring a shriek from the late Adams Smith, whom many Americans fondly quote in part, while the sight of such magnificent distribution of wealth would cause the late Karl Marx, whom no true blue American fondly quotes, to throw his voluminous Das Kapital into the nearest frog pond. It also brings this country sharply up to the fact that it does not live by the gold standard, the silver standard or any other sort of hard money but on paper, mainly based on credit. Add to this immense amount of mortgage paper all other types of business and commercial credit, plus the daily avalanche of bank checks, it becomes clear that if the country decided to do business with metal money it would take an amount comparable to the mass of Rocky Mountains, the weight of which would make the country sway-backed while the railroads devoted their full time and energy hauling it around.

Is it all good economics? Who knows for sure? But one thing is certain it has unleashed the nation and has provided for goods and services which mark the Americans as the most affluent and comfortable people in all history.

And there is this further about it. The system seems to be working. Of the $290 billions in short term consumer debt only 1.8 per cent of the consumer loans become delinquent. And in the longer term bracket only four in a thousand homes become lost through foreclosure.

Freeman's Slow Down

Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman dug his heels into the dirt and slowed down his roller coaster farm program.

He announced no increase in feed grain price supports for 1962 and a slightly lower support figure for soybeans. He had to. His program was working too well.

His higher feed grain price supports plus acreage allotments in 1961 resulted in a seven per cent decrease in production and in that respect showed that the so-called overburdening crop surplus is actually controllable and could be stopped dead in its tracks in an unbelieveably short time by intensifying present support-allotment techniques.

But what Mr. Freeman is up against is the fact that eight years of unbridled and costly production under the Benson program is now woven into the economy and withdrawal will have to come by degrees, if at all. Handling the surplus has developed into a must lest the heavily capitalized, expanded storage industry, and the transportation facilities receive more damage than the producing farmer gets in benefits. It will be quite a while before the last car of the Benson train passes on out of sight. Meantime, the Freeman administration will have to drive with care. It is possible that the administration will have to revise upward its computation of what constitutes a proper and normal food reserve. And it is rather certain that greater use of food products will have to go into the foreign aid program.

It is even more possible that the Washington officials will learn that their problem is one of administering plenty rather than one amenable to artificial rules based on the doctrine of scarcity. Such rules are only good when there is a scarcity. This country is having a hard time realizing that more and more it is crossing over the threshold into plenty where old rules won't work.

Too Much Homework

It is a most interesting question, even though an ancient one, raised by School Board Member Arthur Danielson, in regard to the homework load of students in the public school system. Homework may not seem like an intangible thing but in many ways it is and this is the light in which Superintendent of Schools Dr. Steven N. Watkins seems to view it.

The difficult fact is that what is two hours of homework for one student may be four hours of work for another and one hour of work for someone else. So many things enter into this problem that it is impossible to have any established policy that could effectively meet every eventuality and every individual difference.

When, for instance, is homework done by the student, late at night when he is tired and should be ready for bed or immediately after dinner when the mind is fresh and the body relaxed? Is it done in the midst of a good or bad physical and emotional environment? Is is done in the midst of much other family activity or in comparative seclusion?

Has the student developed good study habits or poor ones? Are his lamentations cause for pity from his parents or is he given to understand that it is his responsibility to do the job assigned to him in school that day? To be sure, there can be such a thing as too much homework but the times would indicate that this is a problem only in a very few cases. If, as Mr. Danielson suggests, some students have had to miss family programs or affairs because of a homework burden, it may well be that the family programming, not the homework load, is the thing in need of overhauling. While we need to be constantly on guard against excesses in all that we do, we had better remember that business still comes before pleasure.

Kennedy Turns Toward Center

WASHINGTON — Press emphasis on the new congressional leadership and President Kennedy's reaction to it has tended to veil the reverse of the coin, which is how the President at this point looks to the members of Congress.

The importance of the latter aspect of White House congressional relations will quickly become apparent as the legislative mills start to grind. What members of Congress see or think they see of the character and will of the President is a vital ingredient of their votes on any issue.

As of now certain tactical points of the coming duel between the executive and legislative branches are clear. The President has chosen not to challenge but to propitiate. He is showing a willingness to compromise even before he sets forth his new goals.

This image is to carry over into his publicity. The year-end dispatches from Palm Beach, which had their source in the President himself, suggested that he prefers to be called a moderate progressive rather than a liberal.

This is a straight steal from President Eisenhower, but that is only fair. From the start Eisenhower talked the New Deal language about the human needs of the people, even though his follow-through was lamentable. Democrats complained that Eisenhower had stolen their clothes but never worn them.

Kennedy's pallid partisanship is also a copy of the Eisenhower technique. Apparently Kennedy thinks the public prefers it or that it is made necessary by the experiences of foreign policy, for he is an able partisan when he so chooses.

The Kennedy discussions at Palm Beach and with legislative leaders here break no new ground, nor do they represent what might be called ideas in depth. They may be—his associates so contend—the best he can hope for and more, given the present situation.

The question remains of his wisdom in devoting himself now, in the early days of his administration, to tactics at the near-total expense of grand strategy. For if there is a strategic design, it is well hidden from the political eyes of Washington.

Kennedy admirers say that his soul is set on greatness, and few observers doubt them. His eloquence bears them out and reflects the deep perception and learning which are able to define greatness.

What is debatable is whether his operational methods, as seen now, can achieve that greatness. Much has been written and said about the Kennedy style, which seemed so fresh and new a year ago. Now friendly critics are beginning to talk about how much it seems to resemble that of the President whose conduct of the nation's affairs he pungently attacked in his campaign.

"Oh, no, Miss, you're not taking me out of my way."

States Should Enumerate Retirement Facilities

By ROBERT PETERSON

I'd like to see more states take pride in what they've got to offer older people. Of course, half a dozen Southern and Western states warble a sustained note of pride in extolling their superiorities as retirement havens. But what about the other 44 states — are they totally lacking in anything of interest to those along in years?

In actual fact, all the states have returement features and facilities worth shouting about — if only they'd take the trouble to list them. Take Maryland. The casual observer would never guess that Maryland with her frosty winters would have the temerity to hail herself a retirement paradise. But that seems to be the case as witness a new publication entitled, "Maryland, the State for Retirement," which has been issued by that state's Department of Economic Development.

In the publication are enumerated treats by the dozen awaiting elder residents of Maryland. There's a listing of state parks for camping and picnicking, a description of winter sports available from bobsledding to skating, an inviting appraisal of water sports including boating, fishing, and swimming, and mention of such assorted diversions as hunting, gardening, horse racing, social clubs, theater groups, and casual country living. After reading the publication, Marylanders of mature vintage are sure to feel fortunate that they live in a state so richly endowed.

Not only can a publication such as this attract new people to one's borders, but it also provides elder residents with detailed information which they should have about facilities available to them. It also reminds them that even though they may be unable to pick oranges in their backyard in January, they've still got a lot to crow about and are by no means forgotten.

One of the more unfortunate appellations used in describing healthy oldsters is "well-preserved." Personally, I never use the term although I'm frequentup tempted.

Mrs. Lessie M. Drown, 78, of West Boylston, Mass., has written a little poem on the theme which goes as follows: "They tell me I am very well-preserved—a compliment I should appreciate. But somehow well-preserved brings images of things that stand in jars. Or mummies saved from ancient days. I wish my friends would use some other phrase."

Many retired folk are discouraged from applying for freighter travel because they've heard cargo carriers don't have a physician aboard and thus won't take pasengers past 65. But I've found that just about every freighter line which publishes this age limitation will waive the ruling if you can produce a letter from your doctor certifying that you are in good health.

Further evidence comes from Mrs. F. M. McGown of Cooperstown, N.Y., who writes, "With a doctor's certificate most lines will relax the age limit. We did not start our travel adventures aboard freighters until Mr. McGown was 72, and we've taken some wonderful trips. Retired people are the very ones with the time to take long, leisurely freighter trips."

Jerry Atrick says, "We don't have to worry quite so much about avoiding temptation as we grow older—it avoids us."

If you would like a booklet "Low Cost Trips Around the World" write to this column c/o The Lincoln Star enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents to cover handling costs.

Changes Needed To Improve Record

Nebraska will see little improvement in its traffic safety record without some basic legislative changes, members of Gov. Frank Morrison's Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee have concluded.

Mrs. Helen Greene of Greenwood, the governor's traffic safety coordinator, thus summarized results of the committee's initial meeting.

State departments represented at the meeting reported they are doing as much as they can with money and manpower now available, she said.

The committee decided to give top priority this year to educating the public and members of the legislature as to Nebraska's traffic safety needs, with particular emphasis on driver education and driver re-examination. Bills on these subjects were killed at the 1961 legislative session.

The first 7 traffic fatalities in the state this year involved drivers under the age of 25, the committee was told.

Col. C. J. Sanders said the Nebraska Safety Patrol is operating currently with 18 fewer troopers than it had two years ago — 200 then, 182 now — despite the fact the Interstate Highway has been opened in the meantime.

Landscape Architect Called To Army Duty

Robert Jacobson, acting landscape architect with the State Department of Roads, has been called up for a tour of active army duty.

Jacobson, a reserve officer, leaves next week but said he hopes to be back with the department in time for spring planting of shrubs and trees.

Jacobson, ordinarily a bridge and road engineer, was pressed into service as landscape architect when the department lost its regular architect last year.

Field Trips Planned For NU Students

Journalism students at the University of Nebraska will practice in "live" news situations next week when they travel to 4 outstate towns to help publish daily newspapers.

Teams of students will put out the Fremont Guide and Tribune on Monday and Tuesday and the Grand Island Independent next Thursday and Friday.

Photography teams will go to the York News-Times on Monday and Tuesday and the Nebraska City News-Press on next Thursday and Friday to handle regular photographic assignments and produce extra picture pages for those newspapers.

The field trips include 37 students. This is the 10th semester in which such trips have served as final exams for classes in photo journalism, advanced reporting and newspaper editing, according to Dr. William E. Hall, director of the School of Journalism.

Field trip teams will include:

Fremont: Managing editor, Dave Wohlfarth of Lincoln; copy desk, Judy Harrington of Lincoln, Anda Anderson of Lincoln, Eleanor Billings of Lincoln, Karen Costin of Lincoln and Leon Nyberg of Polk; reporters, Linda Albin of Kearney, Gayle Branigan of North Platte, Judy Doud of Geneva, Linda Jensen of Hastings, Dennis King of Lincoln, Sandra Lyster of Fremont, Honey Lou McDonald of McCook and Margretha Plum of Lincoln; photographers, Cindy Powell Gage of Norfolk, Dale Hajek of Loup City and John Morris of McCook.

Grand Island: Managing editor, George Peterson of Loup City; copy desk, Roger Wait of Lincoln, Rod Hansen of Battle Creek, Doug McCartney of Norfolk and Nancy Whitford of Madison; reporters, Joan Brown of Palmer, Cloyd Clark of Eywood, Betty Cowell of Monroe, Paul Hemsley of Loup City, Sue Isaacson of Norfolk, Ruth Liepnieks of Lincoln and Jim Woodson of Lincoln; photographers, Loretta Bredeson of Grand Island and Tim Gartner of Lincoln.

York: Chief photographer, Janet Sack of Beatrice, Ruthann Chubbuck of Lincoln and Karen Sass of Omaha.

Nebraska City: Chief photographer, John Abrahamzon of Shelton; Don Bennett of Scottsbluff, and David Howe of David City.

Faculty members accompanying the teams will be Professor Robert J. Cranford, Fremont; Assistant Professor R. Neale Copple, Grand Island; Assistant Professor Ray F. Morgan, York; and Instructor Keith Blackledge, Nebraska City.

Zuckert Indicates AF Plans Buildup

Madison, Wis. (AP) — Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert indicated Wednesday night the Air Force plans to increase its regular forces to cope with future cold war flare-ups, rather than count on reserve or air guard units.

"The reserve forces called to active duty last year provided the necessary immediate expansion of our tactical forces," Zuckert said in a speech at the Madison Chamber of Commerce.

"There will always be problems in calling up reserve forces in any future flare-up of the cold war. Our solution is to provide some increases in active force levels."

Vital Role

But, Zuckert said, the Air Reserve and Air National Guard "will continue to have a vital role to play, providing the basis for additional expansion if needed and performing other essential tasks."

The Air Force chief did not go into detail on plans to increase regular forces, but it was believed the new defense budget will contain money for beefing up U.S. strength in jet fighter planes to support ground troops and transport planes to carry those troops to trouble areas.

Zuckert noted that President Kennedy recently ordered two more regular Army divisions organized and that they will replace two Army Guard divisions expected to be demobilized later this year.

More Support

The increase in the Army's regular ground strength will require more air support, and the Defense Department is known to have asked the Air Force for a plan on how this could best be done.

Complaints arose during the Berlin crisis military buildup from some Army reservists and guardsmen who objected to the way the callup was handled.

Zuckert spoke in glowing terms of the performance of the 27,000 Air Guardsmen and Air Reservists called to duty last fall.

Very Proud

"We are very proud of the speed, efficiency and professionalism with which both our reserve forces and our active duty forces have met the current challenge," the air secretary said.

The overseas movement of reserve units made history in many ways, Zuckert said, adding:

"It was the largest single overseas deployment of jet fighters in history, involving more than 200 combat jets.

"It marked the first time that RF84F aircraft from the Air National Guard had flown the Atlantic. It set a record in time from recall to deployment."

Columbus Firm, Officials Named In Price Fix Case

Washington (AP) — The Justice Department announced a federal grand jury in Dayton, Ohio, returned 3 indictments Wednesday charging 10 corporations and 9 executives with conspiring to fix prices for electrical equipment parts.

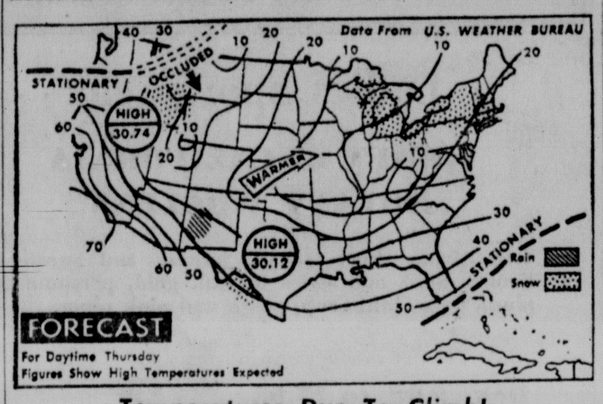
Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the charges involved prices for soft ferrite cores, which are used in making television sets, and deposited carbon resistors and metal film resistors. The resistors are used in computers and navigational and missile guidance systems.

Nebraska News

The Aerovox Corporation of New Bedford, Mass., was named in the soft ferrite core and carbon resistor indictments.

Named in the two resistor indictments were the International Resistance Co. of Philadelphia and the Electra Manufacturing Co. of Independence, Kan.

In addition to Aerovox, defendants in the soft ferrite core indictment included Dale Products Inc. of Columbus, Neb., and George Risk, its president and D. P. Geeding, a vice president.



Temperatures Due To Climb!

Snow is forecast Thursday in the Lakes region, the northern Plateau, the southern Plains and in north Atlantic states. Warmer temperatures are predicted throughout the midwest area. Cold weather is expected to continue in the Lakes region, Appalachians, southern part of the mid Mississippi Valley and in the Atlantic Coast and Gulf areas. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Britain Reluctantly Will Buy U.N. Bonds

London (AP)—Britain is preparing without enthusiasm to follow the U.S. lead and buy a block of the new bonds issued to keep the United Nations out of the red.

Official sources said Wednesday, however, the British government wants the rescue action coupled with a reappraisal of all U.N. finances.

Acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant is expected shortly to send a circular letter to member nations calling for support of the U.N.'s $200 million bond issue.

The fund-raising device has been undertaken as the only way to save U.N. operations threatened because 82 of the 104 members are behind in payment of dues and because the Soviet Union, France, Belgium and Portugal have refused to pay for support of the operations in the Congo.

Fears Possible Effects

Prime Minister Macmillan and his Cabinet were reported gravely concerned not only at the cause but also at the possible effects of the U.N. expedient.

"The bond issue, of course, will give the world body a breathing space while its fiscal problems are being sorted out," one authority said. "The scheme is better than a collapse of its operations.

"But the precedent of this kind of supra-national debt is dangerous. It if works as a stopgap measure the defaulters will be tempted to go on shirking their responsibilities while the rescuing countries might be pressed to go on playing the role of money lenders."

The United States already has decided to take up half of the U.N. bond issue.

PRESIDENT HAS 38 VACANCIES ON U.S. BENCH TO FILL

Chicago (UPI) — An American Bar Association committee said Wednesday President Kennedy has 38 vacancies to fill on the federal bench.

The Association's Committee on the Federal Judiciary, headed by Bernard G. Segal, Philadelphia, said the President made a record-breaking 81 judicial appointments in 1961.

Segal said his committee has investigated more than 450 persons under consideration for the federal bench, at the request of the Justice Department.

Even Weathermen Hit By Cold Wave

Norfolk (AP) — Nobody could say that the weathermen were being spared during the cold wave here.

Heat failed at the airport weather station here Wednesday. Weathermen found the temperature at 38 degrees Wednesday morning and worked through the day in their overcoats.

Planners Agree To Annexation Study

. . . IN RELATION TO SCHOOLS

The City-County Planning Commission Wednesday agreed to a study of the annexation of industrial districts in relation to future school district consolidations.

"Some formula for the division of industrial districts adjoining several school districts should be developed," commission member Jerome Warner pointed out.

Some of the industrial annexation problems involve the Waverly, Walton and Lincoln school districts.

Some small school districts have expressed concern that new industrial areas will be absorbed by larger districts, robbing the smaller ones of much-needed property valuations.

Chairman E. J. Faulkner said school district representatives and others would be named to a special study committee.

The commission approved a special permit for construction of a 3-doctor clinic at the southeast corner of 17th and K.

The one-story medical clinic, proposed by Dr. John W. Ballew, will provide off-street parking for 15 cars.

Also approved was a preliminary plat for Pound Heights, a 54-lot replat at 46th and Pioneers near the new Pound Junior High School site.

Preliminary approval was subject to an estimated $53,000 storm sewer requirement. The city will finance $7,800 of the amount under its new storm sewer policy.

Also approved:

—Preliminary plats of Yolande Addition, a 5-lot industrial replat near Adams and Cornhusker Hwy., and Fiene Terrace 1st Addition, an 11-lot replat near 37th and Pioneers.

—Final plat of Herbert Bros. 2nd Addition to Skline Terrace, a 46-lot residential subdivision at Skyway Rd. and Mesa Rd.

—Vacation of east-west alley between H and J extending 150 feet east from 13th as requested by Sky Park Manor Corp.

Deputy Assigned To Investigate Trailer Houses

Beginning Monday, illegal occupancy of trailer houses in both Lancaster County and Lincoln will be investigated by a special deputy sheriff.

Sheriff Merle Karnopp and County Board Chairman Ralph Harlan said Leonard Schafer will make trailer court and individual trailer investigations for both the County Board and City Council.

Schafer, who has served as tax deputy in the sheriff's office for 21 years, will receive a salary of $300 per month.

State law forbids owning or occupying any trailer in the county without a permit for more than 30 days. A 1961 enactment requires the sheriff to assist in enforcement.

Pabst Is Elected Church Chairman

William Pabst was elected chairman of the Immanuel Lutheran Church (Missouri Synod) 2001 So. 11.

The congregation adopted a budget of $21,395 for 1962.

Henry Grenemeier was elected vice chairman; Rolland Roesler, secretary; and Willard Roesler, treasurer.

Other officers for 1962 are:

Derald Drbal, financial secretary; John Miller, stewardship chairman; Henry Filbert, evangelism chairman.

Board of Elders: Harold Spomer, Pete Lutzi, John Miller, David Bork.

Board of Trustees: Alex Lekal Jr., Gene Eggert, George Pabst, Walter Pethoud.

Board of Christian Education: John Schneider, Adam Filbert, Dale Schmidt, Henry Ebner.

Board of Auditors: Henry C. Filbert, Henry Filbert, Glen Friendt.

Representatives to Allied Council of Lincoln: Egon Reisel, Rolland Roesler, Dale Schmidt.

Representatives to Mission Society of Lincoln: August Woltemath, Henry Filbert.

THIS BIG DOG IS GENTLE

Bimbo, a 100-pound Newfoundland whose gentle disposition has made him a privileged resident of Brooklyn's ASPCA pound, is shown with a puppy stray huddled between his paws.

Aid Funds Eyed For Recreational Land Acquisition

Lincoln may soon seek federal aid funds for land acquistition on the Antelope Creek Dam recreational area and the proposed Interstate 180 "parkway development" to the city.

Urgently recommending the move, the City-County Planning Commission directed the preparation of an application for consideration and approval by the City Council.

Under a new program, administered by the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency, cities may obtain "30% federal funds" to be used in acquiring land for open space purposes such as parks and recreational areas.

Upwards Of $200,000

Land cost estimates for the two projects, for which some city funds have already been authorized, is estimated upwards of $200,000.

Planning Director Douglas Brogden said federal aid could enable the city to speed up land acquisition for the "parkway development" along the Interstate Highway access route to downtown Lincoln.

The council approved funds needed to acquire a critically-needed 70 acres, but the proposed project would ultimately encompass some 160 acres.

Also to be included in the application is 400 acres of land the city is acquiring for recreational development around the Antelope Dam near 56th and Calvert.

Brogden indicated that an application could be ready for council action Monday.

NO VIOLATION OF ZONING CODE FOUND; NOTICE IS WITHDRAWN

A city notice to Abel Construction Company regarding zoning code violations on its 12-acre tract near the Lincoln Air Force Base was withdrawn Wednesday.

City Building Inspector Ed Vorhees advised the Abel firm that its property was re-inspected and "no concrete mixing plant" was found.

Vorhees advised Abel that the Dec. 20 violation notice was being withdrawn pending further investigation and at the request of the Airport Authority's attorney.

In Tuesday's meeting with the authority, Abel attorneys contended the company's use of the land for an unloading and storage yard of rock, sand and gravel doesn't violate the zoning code.

Also pointed out was the lack of a cement plant as contended by the Dec. 20 notice.

Zoning Change Asked For Apartment Units

Lincoln Homes Inc. has requested "multiple-dwelling zoning" of 6 lots on the west side of 13th between Otoe and Van Dorn.

Hearing before the City-County Planning Commission is scheduled for Jan. 24.

In requesting the change from two-family dwelling zoning, the corporation proposed the construction of 4 apartment buildings with a total of 44 units.

Lincoln Man Hurt In 4-Car Pileup

A 23-year-old Lincoln man was dismissed after hospital treatment for a neck injury suffered in a 4-car collision Wednesday afternoon on 10th between R and S.

Police said the man, Clyde L. Zweerink of 2147 So. 15th, was the driver of a car that was hit from the rear by an auto driven by Garry R. Dodge, 19, of 6532 Benton.

The impact pushed Zweerink's auto into one driven by Raymond Prochnow, 37, of 838 Y. Prochnow's car was pushed into a car driven by Milan E. Miller, 49, of 2748 So. 8th, according to police.

The cars driven by Miller, Prochnow and Zweerink were stopped, police said. All 4 cars were headed north on 10th, according to police.

Big Strike Increase

Singapore (AP)—There were 117 strikes and lockouts in Singapore in 1961—nearly 3 times the total for the year before.

Comprehensive Traffic Study Recommended

A "comprehensive traffic origination and destination study" by the State Highway Department has been recommended by the City-County Planning Commission.

Action came after Eldridge Lovelace, a Harland Bartholomew planning consultant, advised "adequate, overall traffic information" isn't available to develop a downtown traffic plan for Lincoln.

"The last comprehensive origin-destination study was made in 1944," Lovelace pointed out. "A partial study for the Interstate access route was made recently, but only covered one-fifth of the total Lincoln traffic."

"In other states, such studies are the responsibility of the highway department. The Nebraska Highway department should be urged to make these comprehensive studies here."

Funds Earmarked

Lovelace pointed out that "1½% of all federal highway grants are specifically earmarked for traffic planning."

Such a comprehensive origin-destination study, requiring two years and "realistically accurate" because of electronic computing equipment, "would put Lincoln's downtown street plan on firmer ground," he said.

Chairman E. J Faulkner, summarizing the commission's recommendation, said: "It would not seem unreasonable that part of these federal funds be allocated to a traffic studies."

The commission recommended that the City Council "sell the state engineer on the idea that a Lincoln traffic origin-destination study urgently is needed and should be made with available federal funds."

Fits Decision

The proposed traffic study was seen to fit in with a City Council decision, made earlier this week, to again seek a second Interstate access route to Lincoln.

Previous city efforts have been unsuccessful. One involved a northeast Lincoln access route. Later the city proposed a "second leg" on the Interstate 180 route (using 9th and 10th) to swing east of the University of Nebraska campus.

Presently in the downtown plan is the "7th Street bypass route," which the state says may be possible in the long-range future.

MINDEN AIRMAN KILLED

. . . In Aircraft Crash

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—Three survivors of a Navy plane crash at sea Tuesday told Wednesday how a 4th man, flying with them as a safety observer, lost his life.

They said David R. Einspahr, 19, airman from Minden, Neb., became stuck in his seat and couldn't get out before the two-engine plane sank with him about two miles off Point Loma.

The other 3 had managed to free themselves and climb out of the plane. They were picked up by a boat out with a party of people watching whales.

The JD1 plane—a converted World War II B26 bomber—was used for towing targets. It was coming in for a landing at its base at North Island Air Station when both engines failed. the survivors said.

They are Lt. Glenn W. Hostetler, 28, the pilot, of Imperial Beach, Calif.; Richard J. Stein, 21, Aviation Ordnanceman 3rd Class, San Jose, Calif., and Valentine Gomez, 35, aviation electrician's mate 2nd Class of Huron, Calif.

Einspahr was the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Einspahr of Minden.

Einspahr joined the Navy Sept. 13, 1960. He attended public school at Minden after the family moved there from Holstein 7 years ago.

Surviving are one brother, Charles, 14; and 3 sisters, Althea, 8; Marie, 6, and Mrs. Howard Podewitz of Heartwell.

Sheriff Wood To Retire After Long Service

Hastings (UPI) — Worthy B. Wood, 70, who has been Adams County sheriff since Jan. 1, 1935, announced he would retire at the end of his present term.

Sheriff Wood

Wood said he would not seek an 8th term.

Wood will end 28 years as Adams County sheriff Dec. 31. He also served 4 years, from 1923 to 1926, as Nuckolls County sheriff.

$1.75 Million Bond Issue Needed For G.I.—Lundstrom

Grand Island (UPI)—School Supt. Dr. Glenn Lundstrom announced that a $1.75 million bond issue would be needed to provide Grand Island with necessary school improvements.

Lundstrom told a citizens-school board meeting that a new elementary school is needed in northeast Grand Island, a new junior high school is needed in the south portion of the city and 6 additional classrooms are necessary at the senior high school.

Officials quoted from building permit figures from the city engineer's office to show that 1,500 new homes have been built here in the past decade.

Lundstrom said the enrollment at the senior high school is now 1,159 with the estimated enrollment next year 1,400 students.

Goldwater Points To Gravity Of JFK's 'Policy Of Inflation'

Detroit (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Wednesday night that if the present administration continues what he called its national policy of inflation "it will have to go in for economic regimentation on a scale never before attempted in the United States."

Goldwater, in a speech before the annual dinner of the Society of Automotive Engineers, said "I can't emphasize too strongly the gravity of this situation."

He said the administration would be forced to go in for a massive program of controls and would be required to push for wage and price controls at home and exchange controls abroad.

In advance of his speech, Goldwater characterized it to reporters as "non-political but definitely anti-New Frontier."

The Arizona Senator said that "at a time when our continued world leadership may well be at stake, we are following a makeshift course which seeks to remedy one economic ill without regard to others which it compounds."

He said the government is ignoring the need for fundamental reforms an is indulging in what he called piecemeal monetary expediencies. These, he said, will result in a contraction of business.

"On one hand," he said, "it pushes through an increase in the minimum wage structure; on the other hand, it urges business to hold down prices to prevent further inflationary pressures. On one hand, it proposes balancing the national budget; on the other hand, it proposes a vast schedule of new government spending projects which would make such a balance impossible to maintain."

Goldwater said that it appears likely the administration will offer a balanced budget of some $93 billion for the fiscal year 1963 but he said this will be a reluctant gesture and will not be a determined, austerity type budget balancing "that is sorely needed to get this country back on a sound fiscal footing."

Smith Said Quitting Job To Run Family Interests

Washington (AP) — Stephen E. Smith, a brother-in-law of President Kennedy, was reported Wednesday night to have submitted his resignation as an official of the State Department in order to devote his time to Kennedy family business interests.

The department's Operations Center, an office set up by Secretary Dean Rusk last summer with Smith as one of the chief officials, probably will be abolished soon, but informants said Smith's resignation was not connected with the impending shakeup.

These officials said that Smith, husband of President Kennedy's sister, Jean, had been asked by other members of the family to spend his time on the extensive business interests of the family. This step, it was said, followed the illness of the President's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, who suffered a stroke last month.

Smith is the first member of the Kennedy family to leave the government, which he entered early last year as a consultant for the Development Loan Fund. Others of the family in high government positions include Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, the President's brother, and R. Sargent Shriver, director of the Peace Corps, his brother-in-law.

Smith has been a special assistant to Theodore C. Achilles, director of the Operations Center, since the center was created. It was designed by Rusk to keep watch on developing crisis spots in the world, make recommendations for dealing with them, and see that the recommendations were carried out immediately.

Officials familiar with the work of the center said experience has shown that some of its activities duplicated the work of older offices in the State Department, including the intelligence branch and the staff secretariat.

The present expectation is that in two or 3 weeks the tasks now assigned to the center will be split up among the older offices. At the same time, it was said, Achilles will be assigned to work with Undersecretary George McGhee and with the policy planning chief, Walt W. Rostow, on the development of forward-looking plans aimed at preventing crises, if possible, before they arise.

One official said the major conclusion to be drawn from the work of the operations is that the State Department needs to put more emphasis ont his kind of "preventive diplomacy" and the reoganization will be designed to achieve that result.

Training Meet Set For Postmasters

Wichita, Kan. (UPI) — More than 1,000 postmasters from Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska are expected to attend a two-day training session for postmasters in Wichita postal district, beginning March 23.

Ernest Auscheman, assistant training officer, said Deputy Postmaster General H. W. Brawley and Assistant Postmaster General Richard J. Murphy will be featured speakers on the program.

Concert In Berlin

Berlin (UPI) — The Eastman Philharmonia of the University of Rochester, Rochester, N.Y., will give a concert in West Berlin, it was announced. The orchestra will be conducted by Howard Hanson.

FAST FREEZE HITS ERIE

Top picture shows Lake Erie as it looked from Gordon Park, in Cleveland, Ohio, Tuesday afternoon after a day of temperatures just above zero. Twenty-four hours later, sub-zero cold changed the same scene to that in the lower picture. Just in front of the skyline is the breakwall surrounding Cleveland Harbor.

Ribicoff Delays Senate Decision

Washington (UPI)—Welfare Secretary Abraham Ribicoff said Wednesday he would not decide until summer whether to seek a Senate seat from Connecticut.

Ribicoff said in a special statement that he was postponing the decision so he would be free to back President Kennedy's legislative program in the session of Congress which opened Wednesday.

There have been persistent reports that Ribicoff, former governor of Connecticut, would resign his cabinet post and run next fall for the seat held by Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn.

Dr. May, Jailed For Aiding Spies, May Work At 'A' Job

Cambridge, England (AP) — Dr. Alan Nunn May, who served nearly 7 years in prison for passing Western atomic secrets to Soviet spies, said Wednesday he may return to the nuclear field in his post in Ghana.

May, now 50, will leave next month to become a teacher of physics and metallurgy at Ghana University.

"As far as I know my work will not involve nuclear physics, and in any case I have not done anything in that field for 15 years," he told an interviewer.

"What if I am asked to work in nuclear physics there? Well, naturally I will not refuse."

The Soviet Union is supplying Ghana with a nuclear reactor, ostensibly for research. May said he understood the reactor would not be in operation until 1967 at the earliest.

May worked at Canada's Chalk River branch of the Allied atomic effort during World War II.

He was convicted of betraying secrets in 1946 and sentenced to 10 years. He was released in 1952 and returned to Cambridge University where he joined the laboratory of Dr. William Wooster, head of the department for the study of crystals.

Randall Heads Rural Carriers

Herbert Randall of Bennet was elected president of the Lancaster County Rural Letter Carriers Assn. Wednesday night.

Duane Ketelhut of Walton was elected vice president and Glenn Young of Firth, secretary.

Agnes Benes of Raymond was named auxiliary president. Arlene Ketelhut of Walton was elected vice president, and Lottie Osterman of Malcolm, secretary.

Mrs. Sobell Tries Hard For Arrest; Quits In Disgust

Washington (AP) — Mrs. Rose Sobell did her best to get arrested at the White House Wednesday even sitting down in a driveway and blocking traffic.

But patient police, aided by subfreezing temperatures, outlasted the 67-year-old mother of convicted spy Morton Sobell. After 40 minutes of "peaceful civil disobedience" in front of the White House she stalked away in disgust.

Mrs. Sobell had announced to the press earlier that she would stage a demonstration in front of the White House in an effort to to see President Kennedy. There have been a number of similar demonstrations by Mrs. Sobell, her daughter-in-law and others seeking freedom for Morton Sobell.

Sobell is serving 30 years on conviction as a member of the spy ring which included Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.

E. E. Peterson Is Business Bureau Head

Ervin E. Peterson was elected president of the Lincoln Better Business Bureau at its 23rd annual meeting Wednesday.

Peterson

Peterson, president of Peterson Construction Co. will succeed Tom M. Sweeney.

Walter Nolte, of First Continental National Bank and Trust Co., was elected vice president, and Leonard Nelson, of Western Power and Gas Co., was elected treasurer.

New directors named to the 25-man board are Thomas Hickey, Henry Rames and Frank Roehl. Lloyd Marti, bureau counsel, and James Sandin, manager were reappointed.

The bureau's annual report to members noted an 11% increase in services over 1960.

Reds Sign Pacts

Tokyo (AP)—North Korea has signed new trade agreements with two of its communist partners, Red China and Bulgaria. The agreements will provide North Korea with raw materials, chemicals and medicines in return for steel, iron ore and a line of manufactured machine products.

Most Tire Makers OK Price Changes

. . . ANTITRUST CASE ENDS

Washington (AP) — Virtually all manufacturers of automobile tires agreed Wednesday to establish new price lists.

The agreement ended one of the biggest antitrust cases in the 47-year history of the Federal Trade Commission.

Fourteen tire and tube manufacturers and two trade associations signed a consent order described by the FTC as "halting a price-fixing conspiracy."

The companies signed the order for purposes of settling the case. They did not admit to any violations of the law.

A key provision requires each manufacturer to abandon existing prices and establish new ones without consulting others in the industry. If any of the new prices are changed within two years after adoption, those responsible would have to document the reasons.

The firms were named by the FTC in a 1959 complaint which charged that members of the rubber industry were fixing uniform prices illegally, exchanging confidential information on prices and selling terms, and fixing bids in federal, state and local government contracts.

Prohibited

The consent order prohibits the companies from engaging in any of these practices.

Among those signing the order were the industry's big 4: the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., the B. F. Goodrich Co., all of Akron, Ohio, and the United States Rubber Co., New York City.

Trade associations signing were: the Rubber Manufacturers Association, New York City, and the Tire and Rim Association, Inc., Akron.

The FTC, in its 1959 complaint, charged that the "big 4" maintained a uniform pricing system which meant that all classes of customers paid the same price for a tire or tube, regardless of location and differing freight costs. It said the prices charged by the other companies were lower by differentials agreed upon in advance.

Compelled To Pay

As a result, the complaint said, nearby customers were compelled to pay part of the cost of shipping tires to more distant purchasers.

The complaint also alleged that the companies used the trade associations "to implement the price-fixing conspiracy" and maintained identical or substantially uniform customer classifications, discounts, bonuses, and allowances.

The companies further were accused of adopting uniform policies for special holiday promotions, and the FTC said that, under the industry pricing plan, one of the "big 4" generally announced all price changes with the others adopting agreed-upon changes later.

Steelworkers Hope To Avoid 1962 Strike, McDonald Says

Washington (UPI) — Steelworkers President David J. McDonald said his union hopes to reach a prompt and fair settlement with the steel industry this year that would avoid a strike.

Asked about Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg's remark earlier that a steel strike this year would be senseless, McDonald told reporters: "The steelworkers never wanted to have a strike."

McDonald was in Washington for a meeting of his union's 33-man executive board, called to handle inter-union matters. He said the board did not discuss the negotiations with the industry that will begin in mid-year.

Administration Hopeful

The Kennedy administration hopes to avoid a price rise in steel this year, as well as a strike in the industry.

In saying the union does not want a strike, McDonald told reporters: "We have been forced into shutdowns on occasion much against our will and earnest endeavors."

As an example he cited the 1959 strike, the worst in steel history, that ended 116 days after it began with an agreement on the present contract which expires June 30.

"We hope that will never happen again," he said. "All I can say is the steelworkers always wanted to make prompt and fair labor contracts and we hope to do so this year."

Goldberg was chief negotiator for the union during the 1959 walkout.

McDonald is understood to be forming a subdued and flexible approach to the negotiations in an effort to minimize public quarrels with industry spokesman.

The union's main concern appears to be unemployment in the mills. The industry's average production-maintenance job level during the first 9 months of 1961 was 405,700, which the union says is the lowest since the great depression.

The union has proposed a 32-hour week to alleviate high unemployment among its members, although one source said it was not wedded to this proposal.

But it will seek other methods to reduce the impact of layoffs, such as higher separation pay, retraining rights, more supplemental unemployment benefits and seniority rights in transfers to new plants.

Education Board Seeks Successor To Commissioner

The State Board of Education will meet in executive session at 10 a.m. Monday to study further candidates to replace Dr. Freeman Decker as state education commissioner.

Decker leaves Monday for a new job as coordinator of the state normal colleges.

Eight applications have been received so far, but the board has been in contact with other prospects.

The board indicated that a new commissioner will not be named Monday.

Meanwhile, Stanley Hawley, deputy education commissioner and a candidate for the top post, will fill in as department head.

Byrd Says Dillon After Quick Hike In Debt Limit

Washington (AP)— Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said Wednesday Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon is seeking a quick $2 billion to $3 billion increase in the national debt limit.

Dillon conferred with Byrd Wednesday morning on the problem, but Byrd reported afterwards that no final decision was reached.

It was disclosed Tuesday the administration would ask Congress for fast action on a boost in the present $298 temporary ceiling.

Byrd said he told Dillon there will be no action until after President Kennedy submits his budget to Congress next week.

He said Dillon reported a $2 billion to $3 billion increase is needed by March 1 to meet current operating expenses. Byrd said this would tide the treasury over until the end of the present fiscal year.

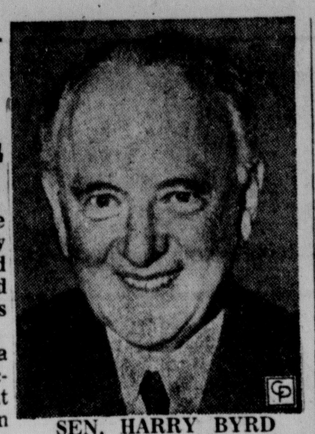
Dillon also reported he would need a bigger increase for the new year starting July 1, the period to be covered by Kennedy's budget, and would like to tie both items into one bill, Byrd said.

Byrd said he asked why a still higher limit will be necessary when the President has said his budget will be in balance.

The answer, Byrd said, was that revenues flow into the treasury in uneven fashion and there will be some months in the new fiscal year when even a $301 billion ceiling will not suffice. The debt stands now at about $296.5 billion with $1.5 billion in new money borrowing scheduled soon.

The permanent debt ceiling is $285 billion. Under present law, the limit automatically reverts to that figure June 30 unless there is further action by Congress.

The highest ceiling in history was $300 billion at the close of World War II.



SEN. HARRY BYRD

Understandable

Bracknell, England (UPI—Terence Hathaway, 18, told a court here Wednesday he had assaulted a company guard and a policeman at his former place of work because of an office Christmas party.

During the party, Hathaway said, he had drunk 15 dry martinis, 10 small rums, 5 whisky "Macs" (a concoction of whisky and ginger wine) and one ale.

"No more Christmas parties for me," Hathaway told the judge.

Primary Issues Facing Action In 87th Congress

Washington (UPI)—Here are the primary issues facing the 87th Congress in its second session:

Trade—President Kennedy wants to liberalize American trade policy in exchange for similar concessions abroad. Protectionists predict he will get little if any such authority. Outcome: uncertain.

Medical care—Democratic leaders are not too hopeful even for a pared-down version of Kennedy plan to furnish medical care for the aged under Social Security. Outlook: doubtful.

Education—aid for public schools appears dead this session. But assistance for college classrooms and scholarships appears likely, along with subsidies for educational TV.

Tax Revision—good chance given to billion-dollar tax incentive for business to modernize facilities. Withholding tax may be applied to dividends and interest, and there could be tightened curbs on expense account deductions.

Postal rates—one-cent increase likely in first class mail and air mail postage, increasing average family's cost of living about a half-penny daily. Outlook dimmer for rate increase on advertising circulars and effort to raise more revenue from publishers.

Welfare—good chance for some version of government-backed program to retrain workers displaced by automation, and for revision in welfare program for needy.

United Nations—strong opposition to Kennedy's proposal that United States buy up to $100 million in United Nations bonds.

Housing—Kennedy wants a cabinet-level department of housing and urban affairs. Chances are about 50-50 that he'll get it.

Dope Case Ruling Set Wednesday

A ruling on a suppression of evidence motion filed by Les Elgart bandsman Grant M. Wallin will be made by Lancaster District Judge Paul White at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Wallin, 27, of Chicago, is charged with possession of narcotic drugs. He testified that he had marijuana in his luggage during his stay in Lincoln to play at the University of Nebraska Homecoming dance Nov. 4.

However, Wallin, Elgart and 5 other band members facing similar charges, contend police search of their hotel rooms violated the United States and Nebraska constitutions.

If Judge White sustains the motion, evidence obtained during the search of Wallin's room cannot be admitted in court.

Don't miss it. News of friends on vacation, marriages, engagements, parties, P.T.A. notes and club meetings makes good reading in the family section of "Sunday Journal and Star."

Corn Foundation Gives NU Grant

Washington — The University of Nebraska will receive a 1962 grant for photomicrographic studies from Corn Industries Research Foundation, Inc., announced Floyd J. Hosking, executive vice president.

Dr. Rudolph M. Sandstedt, professor in the Department of Biochemistry and Nutrition, will direct research under the grant. The work will involve making motion photomicrographs of starch granule reactions. Dr. Sandstedt's research in this field has received foundation support since 1950.

Award of the grant was recently approved by the trustees of Corn Industries Research Foundation at their annual meeting in New York, said Hosking.

Plan To Eliminate Abuses In Welfare Program Is 'Backed'

Washington (UPI) — An administration plan to eliminate abuses in the public welfare program and get people off relief rolls drew a cautiously favorable response Wednesday from Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., of the Senate Finance Committee.

Byrd said he was basically sympathetic to the aims of legislative proposals outlined by Abraham Ribicoff, secretary of health, education and welfare, in a memorandum to Byrd and Chairman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways & Means Committee.

The legislation would be a follow-up to 10 administrative changes made in the program by Ribicoff Dec. 11. The idea is to reduce the cost of the $4 billion welfare program by getting people off relief rolls and into jobs.

Byrd emphasized that he and Mills gave no formal commitment to support the emphasis placed on rehabilitation and training in Ribicoff's proposals. Congressional leaders Tuesday gave the program top priority after Congress acts on tax revision.

Ribicoff said in his memo that the program was designed to rehabilitate people already on relief rolls and prevent employable people from being put on them.

The secretary said the present welfare program, laid down in the depression year of 1935, was out of date.

The administration program would provide for federal participation in community work-training programs. Aid recipients in the dependent children's program would be paid for work on community projects at prevailing wage rates in jobs where they would not displace other workers.

Suburbia Unhampered By Weather

PRAIRIE VALLEY

It seems that Old Man Winter refuses to grant Lincoln residents a reprieve of any kind, which means that news will continue to be to some extent anyway, rather slow. However we did hear some news concerning new residents in suburbia as well as a few items on travelers and birthday celebrations.

Numbered among the new residents of Prairie Valley are Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Schultz, who now are residing at 4415 Van Dorn. Their former addres was 6735 Y. Mr. and Mrs. Schultz have two sons, Blaine, Jr., who is a freshman at the University of Nebraska and a pledge of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, and Peter Michael, who is a junior at Northeast High School.

Then there is one wee resident we really must tell you about — little Miss Sandra Lynne Varnum, daughter of Lt. and Mrs. James W. Varnum, who arrived at Lincoln General Hospital on Tuesday, Dec. 26. Awaiting her little sister's arrival home on Monday, Jan. 1, was Sarah, who is 20 months old. Sandra Lynne's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Gore of Shallotte, N.C., and her paternal grandmother is Mrs. Ada Varnum, also of Shallotte.

Now residing at 2620 No. Eden Drive are Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Svoboda and their two daughters, Sondra and Kristi. Their former address was 1017 So. 33rd. Sondra, who is 16, attends Lincoln High School and little Kristi, who is two, stays home, needless to say.

Leaving Prairie Valley, Lincoln, and the state are Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Cullen who reside at 2627 Antelope Circle. They will leave tomorrow, Jan. 12 for 86 Elm Acres Drive, Fond-du-Lac, Wis. Dr. Cullen, a specialist in internal medicine, will resume his practice in Fond-du-Lac, their home previous to their two and a half years' residence in Lincoln.

Back in town from Kansas City, Mo., is Mrs. H. Claire Helmsdoerfer, who left Lincoln on Tuesday, Jan. 2 to visit her sister, Mrs. Lynn From, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Callaghan and family, all of Kansas City. Mrs. Helmsdoerfer returned home on Friday.

Also in the news of the Helmsdoerfer family, we learned that Mr. and Mrs. Helmsdoerfer were host and hostess to five neighborhood couples on New Year's Day for luncheon and a session of watching the Rose Bowl parade.

And arriving home in Lincoln Monday were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Burke, who left Lincoln on Dec. 17 with Houston, Tex. as their destination. While in Houston, they were the houseguests of their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Jackson and their small daughter, Cynthia Lee.

One of the highlights of the Houston visit was a day "at sea" on the Gulf of Mexico. They also took a trip to Brownsville, Tex., and across the border into Mexico, for several days.

Leaving the travelers and the families on the move, we learned that Mrs. Marcus H. Cohen was quite surprised, indeed, when she and Mr. Cohen returned from dinner recently, walked in the door and found more than a few neighbors patiently waiting to surprise her on her birthday anniversary.

With the assistance of Mr. Cohen and daughter Adrienne, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roth, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Tews, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Svoboda, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schultz, Dr. and Mrs. Russell Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Christensen, and Mrs. Maxine Watkins, assembled at the Cohen home with party preparations and goodies. After the initial surprise, the group settled down for an evening of canapes and dancing.

KESSLER HEIGHTS

Former residents of Kessler Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie O. Shatwell, and their little daughter, Pamela, aged five months, have moved to 3100 No. 35th. Their South Hills address before their move on Monday, Jan. 1, was 2220 Burnham.

Incidentally, Mrs. Shatwell's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. McGee and their two children, David and Sherry, of St. Louis, Mo., have just moved to Lincoln. Their new address is 2545 Teresa.

Frosty the Snowman will be a happy fellow, we know, for this afternoon he will preside at the birthday party of a young lass, Miss Janniver Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Smith. Miss Janniver is seven today and, need we tell you, even the cake will be a snowman.

Included among the guests will be Donna Nelson, Kevin Roschewski, Peggy James, Holly Tice, David Newton, Steven Connell, Jody Shurtleff, Karen Lowe, and Johnny Becker. And the favors each guest will receive—stocking caps and scarves—will be in keeping not only with Frosty, but also the thermometer outside.

SOUTH HILLS

The proud parents of a new baby girl are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neal on Sunny Hill Road. The little lass will be known by the name of Mary Jane, and she arrived at St. Elizabeth Hospital on Thursday, Jan. 4. Mary Jane has four big brothers, Patrick, John, Richard, and Jim. Her maternal grandmother is Mrs. Fred Kolar of Giltner, and her paternal grandfather is U. D. Neal.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 ♥	3 ♣	Pass	3 NT

Opening lead — king of hearts.

This deal occurred in a pair championship. The bidding was not the same at every table, but at most of them South became declarer at three notrump.

The results obtained by the various declarers were curious indeed. The outcome was largely a matter of West's choosing the right line of defense, and we record here what transpired at three tables where South contracted for three notrump.

At the first table, West led the king of hearts and was then faced with a difficult choice of what to play next. With eight solid clubs starting him in the face, West decided that the best chance of beating the contract was to play his partner for the ace of diamonds.

So at trick two he led a diamond in the hope that East would take the ace and return a heart to defeat the contract three tricks. This scheme didn't turn out well for West, because South, to West's discomfiture, took the rest of the tricks to make six notrump.

At the second table, West cashed the A-K-Q of hearts, and when East signaled on the third heart lead with the eight of spades, West led the six. East took the ace, returned a spade, and West cashed three spades to defeat the contract three tricks.

It was at the third table that the defense exacted the maximum penally. Here, also, the king of hearts was led, but at trick two West shifted to a low spade. East won with the ace and returned a heart.

Declarer, who had thirteen tricks ready to cash if he could have obtained the lead in time, sat by hopelessly as the defenders reeled off six heart tricks and four spades to defeat him six tricks — 600 points.

So the odd result of the hand was that while all three declarers were playing the same contract against the same opening lead, one of them made twelve tricks, another six tricks, and the third one made only three tricks.

Bridge is a strange game.

Party For Students

Dining and dancing on Wednesday evening at Pius X High were the officers of the Student Councils of the five Lincoln high schools who were guests of the Inter-City Student Council members.

More than 125 students attended and heard a talk by the Rev. Tom Keefe, minister at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Dear Abby

"Big Deal" Also Odd

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I was recently married. It was my third marriage and his second. I never really understood what this man did for a living, and I still don't. I work every day. He drives me to work and picks me up. I make all the payments on the bills, pay the rent and save a little. Once in a while he gets dressed up and goes to "work," but I don't know where or doing what. Twice he brought home a bankroll and was very liberal with it. When I tell him I think he should get a steady job he says, "Don't worry, honey, one day I will get into something big." I am confused and worried. Can you figure it out?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: Whatever your husband is doing sounds questionable to me. Perhaps the "something big" he will get into one day is prison. Find out where he is working. As his wife you have a right to know. P.S. The government will share your curiosity—at income tax time.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I have fallen in love with a girl who is three months pregnant. The father of the baby will not marry her. I told her I would marry her if she would give the baby up. She turned me down. Do you think she is being sensible?

BIG RED

DEAR RED: Very. If she has to give up her baby, what does she need YOU for?

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My grandfather, who has been ill for quite some time, is expected to die at any moment. Is it necessary to have my grandmother's relatives to the funeral? If they do attend, is it necessary to have them sit in the pews reserved for relatives?

They are such rough and ignorant people it would embarrass us to have them sitting with the relatives of my grandfather. In other words, the whole family is ashamed of them. However, we will do what is right.

JUST WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: A funeral is not a "party" that one attends by invitation only. Your grandmother's relatives have a right to attend, and to sit in the pews reserved for relatives.

Luncheon On Friday

A day of social activity has been planned for the wives of the correspondent bankers of the First Continental National Bank, who will meet in Lincoln Friday for a day-long series of conferences at the Hotel Cornhusker.

More than 125 are expected to attend the ladies luncheon, which will be held Friday noon at the University Club. Guest speaker for the short program will be Miss Helen Snyder, dean of women at the University of Nebraska.

In charge of arrangements for the day's activities are Miss Lois Tefft and Mrs. Evelyn Whiting.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McNeely of Falls City have made announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carolyn Ann, of Lincoln, to George Horst, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Horst of Lincoln.

The wedding is planned for the Easter week end.

Summer Bride-Elect

Former campus circles—the mid-thirties vintage—will remember Nola Alter, Pi Beta Phi—and Robert K. Scott, Sigma Nu. They have been Mr. and Mrs. Scott for numerous years, as everyone knows, and visit in Lincoln frequently.

All of the background leads up to the information that Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Scott of Ogallala, make announcement this morning of the betrothal of their daughter, Roxie Anne, to Robert Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Murphy of Phoenix, Ariz.

A late summer wedding is planned.

Miss Scott, the niece of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hunt and Mr. and Mrs. C. Robert Mowbray, is a graduate of Scripps College, Claremont, Calif. Mr. Murphy, a graduate of the University of Arizona at Tucson, now is a senior in the University of Arizona College of Law.

Why Grow Old?

Fun To Look Younger

Josephine Lowman

Exercises which improve your balance give you grace and poise. In this one, swing arms and head back as you rise on toes. Improve your figure in every way in just eight weeks by joining Josephine Lowman's Marathon.

Do you want to look from five to 10 years younger just two months from now? That's a silly question! What woman doesn't? It is a silly question, but not a silly idea because it is entirely possible.

I have seen it happen over and over again in my reducing classes, and thousands of letters from Marathon winners have told me of the tremendous change in their appearance and their happiness after completing my 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon.

The metamorphosis from bulges to curves, from fatigue to pep and from self-consciousness to self-confidence can create miracles. A regular routine of diet and exercise is reflected in the sheen of the hair, the smoothness of the skin and the slimness of the waist, and a slim waist has changed many a woman's life.

Why not join thousands of other women all over the country in the adventure of seeing how much you can improve your appearance in just eight weeks. You will have plenty of company! Next summer I will print the success stories of some of the Marathon winners, without names, of course, unless you would like to have yours printed.

You can look younger eight weeks from now, no matter what your age, if you make up your mind to pay the price for self-improvement.

Here are a few tips which will make dieting easier:

Eat slowly. It has been found that there is a correlation between the amount of blood sugar and hunger. A rise in blood sugar decreases appetite, and it takes a little while for the food you eat to increase your level of blood sugar.

Eat the protein at your meal first. This will increase the level of your blood sugar.

Eat a good breakfast or your blood sugar level will be very low by mid morning and you will be so hungry that you probably will dash out and buy a tidbit which is dynamite, calorie-wise.

With Marathon you can lose both pounds and years! If you would like to join, send 70 cents and a stamped self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon booklet which gives you the directions you need for a lovelier you. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Lincoln Star, Lincoln, Neb.

Alumnae Club

The Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae will meet next Wednesday at 2 o'clock for a dessert luncheon at the new Nebraska Center. Following the business meeting, the group will be taken on a tour of the building.

It Seams To Me

Whip Stitch Correct

Patricia Scott

When sewing instructions are given to use a certain stitch, there is a very good reason for the selection, so please heed the advise.

Q. I've been making decorative pillows for years. Recently a friend argued with me that instructions advise you to slip-stitch the opening closed after you have turned the pillow cover to the right side. I've always whipped the opening closed. What is a slip-stitch, and why isn't my method just as good? Mrs. T. T.

A. Since your pillows are supposed to be decorative, it isn't a good idea to use an ugly looking stitch on the outside. A whipping stitch is very obvious on the right side and is used to join two finished edges, such as lace edging on a handkerchief. It is really just an overcasting stitch such as you use for finishing seam allowances. The slip-stitch, on the other hand, is invisible if done correctly. It can only be used where there is an edge which is folded under. You can join two folded edges, such as the opening on the pillows, so that no stithces show. Bring the needle out through the edge of the fold. Take a tiny stitch in one fold. Then slip the needle in the other fold . . . first in the fold of one edge, then in the fold of the other until the opening is closed without any stitches showing.

Q. I'm about to make my first dress and don't know what type of fabric to use. What is easiest for a beginner? Mrs. G. T.

A. A medium-weight cotton or wool is your best bet. They have the wonderful quality of not slipping when they are being cut or stitched, and if you have to rip out a seam, very little damage is done to the fabric. Stay away from prints, stripes, checks or any napped fabrics. Stick with solid colors until you have had a little experience.

Q. When making ruffles for bedspreads (I mean the full flounces), how much extra length should you allow for a very full gathered ruffle. I've been using a little less than twice the length and it seems too skimpy. Mrs. B. B.

A. For a full ruffle, allow 2½ times the actual finished length. This is especially necessary if you're working with fabric such as organdy. Unless ample material is allowed, the ruffle will, after a time, hang like a limp rag.

Miss Scott is always glad to hear from her readers, and whenever possible will use their questions in her column, but because of the great volume of mail received daily, she cannot answer individual letters.

Board Meeting

The members of the board of the Lincoln Public Schools Faculty Wives Club will meet on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Richard Beechner, 2924 So. 26th.

Brides-Elect Honored

A January bride-elect who has been honored at numerous courtesies in recent weeks is Miss Pamela Nootz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Nootz, whose marriage to Rex Allen Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Frank Martin of Webster Groves, Mo., will be an event of Saturday, Jan. 27.

The wedding of Miss Nootz and Mr. Martin will take place at 7 o'clock evening service at Green Memorial Chapel, Columbia, Mo., where both are students at the University of Missouri.

The bride-to-be will be honored on Friday afternoon at a luncheon for which Mrs. Howard Gerstenberger will be hostess at her home. Fifteen guests have been invited for the informal afternoon during which a miscellaneous shower will be presented to the honoree.

Mrs. Ralph Reed entertained at her home recently in courtesy to Miss Nootz at a tea and linen shower for which a group of mothers and their daughters were invited.

Out of town guests at the event were Mrs. Robert Weber of Hamilton, N.Y., Miss Leila Thoman and Miss Jane Reed, both students at the University of Wichita, Kan., and Miss Mary Davies, who attends the University of Missouri.

Also included among recent courtesies for the bride-to-be was the dinner for which Dr. and Mrs. L. T. Davies and their daughter, Miss Mary Davies, were host and hostesses at their home for members of the family. Miss Nootz was presented with a gift by the Davies family.

A calendar filled with prenuptial courtesies is keeping a January bride-elect busy these last few weeks preceding her wedding.

A coffee on Saturday has been planned to honor Miss Carol Ann Bauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Bauer, who will become the bride of Andrew J. Smith of Elgin, Ill., on Friday, Jan. 26. Hostesses for the coffee will be Mrs. Alan Nielsen and Mrs. Robert Heilig who will entertain 16 guests at the home of Mrs. Heilig. During the affair, a one-gift shower will be presented to the honoree.

The wedding of Miss Bauer and Mr. Smith will take place at a 7:30 o'clock evening service at Immanuel Lutheran Church.

Motor Trend Magazine makes it official:

1962 car of the year!

From the very first we knew we had a winner. Happy owners, car enthusiasts raved about the 1962 Buick Special with the history-making Fireball V-6 engine. Now the editors of Motor Trend – one of the country's top car magazines – have made it official. After road-testing and evaluating all U.S. cars, they've named the V-6 Special "Car of the Year!" Here's how they put it . . .

"Motor Trend's CAR OF THE YEAR AWARD to the 1962 Buick for pure progress in design, originative engineering excellence, and the power concept for the future expressed in America's only V-6 automobile engine."

Why are the car experts so hot on this exclusive Buick engine? Only a V-6 can combine the extra vigor and smoothness of V-design with the gas savings of a straight six. This 135 H.P. V-6 weighs up to 140 pounds less than other sixes of comparable power. It sips regular gas ever so sparingly.

But why go on? Ask your Buick dealer to let you drive a V-6 Buick Special. There are five beautiful models, including a fabulous new convertible. Drop in soon and see how easy it is to make the "Car of the Year" your very own.

U.S. Officials Expect Strong Poke At Fidel

Washington (AP) — U.S. officials said Wednesday they expect a strong condemnation of the Fidel Castro regime in Cuba at a foreign ministers' conference this month, but no sensational immediate results.

It would be a mistake, they said, to expect that decisions taken at the conference in Punta Del Este, Uruguay, starting Jan. 22 could produce dramatic overnight developments, such as the downfall of the Cuban Marxist.

Government experts stressed that they do not expect failure at the conference. They said the fact it is being held represents great progress in what they call a rising tide of anti-Castro feeling in Latin America.

President Kennedy, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other U.S. officials conferred at the White House about the Punta Del Este meeting. The President is described by informed sources as taking a day-to-day personal interest and following closely suggestions by Argentina, other American republics, and U.S. experts on the type of declaration to be adopted at the conference. Some sources said a presidential outline of his concept of the scope of the Punta Del Este meeting might be issued at his news conference Jan. 15, to help orient public opinion in this country.

TALE OF DIMINISHING TAILS

These 5 pups were born a month ago to a dog named "Ding", pet of the Earl Miller Jr. family of Wichita, Kan. Noticed at once was this peculiarity—the pups, from Prince at left to Princess, next to right, had progressively shorter tails, from 3 inches down. Diamond, extreme right, had no tail at all.

Boulder Kills Tot

Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic (AP) — A 6-year-old girl was crushed to death by a boulder dislodged in an earthquake at the village of San Jose De Ocoa, 55 miles from here.

Seek India Nationality

Panjim, Goa (UPI) — Indian authorities said that 20 Portuguese servicemen taken prisoner by the Indian army during military operations in Goa have applied for Indian nationality.

Morse Hits Military Tactics

Washington (UPI) — Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., charged Wednesday that the armed forces are discriminating against servicemen whose Congressmen write the Pentagon about claims of family hardship.

Morse also accused unnamed army officers of "lying" about the case of an Oregon youth who applied for a hardship discharge in order to support and care for his widowed mother.

The Senator made the charges in a speech to a closed caucus of Democratic Senators, then discussed them with a UPI reporter.

He said he told the caucus that the administration must make clear to commanding officers that the armed services are under civilian control.

No member of Congress should ask special favors for any constituent, he said—for example "no politician has a right to request a hardship discharge." But he said every soldier has a right to petition his Congressman, and a Congressman has a moral obligation to ask that a constituent receive every right to which he is due.

In the Oregon case, Morse said, he asked the army to give the application prompt consideration. But he said a commanding officer was reported later to have told the serviceman he would have been granted the discharge if Morse had not intervened.

Frontier Challenges Hi-Plains Surveys

North Platte, Neb. (AP)—Air service surveys presented by Hi-Plains Airways and Midwest communities were challenged by Frontier Airlines Wednesday in arguments at a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing.

The hearing is being held to decide whether Hi-Plains should be authorized to serve 46 towns in a 5-state area.

Douglas Schneider of Washington, D. C., attorney for Frontier, challenged the authority of the surveys and moved to strike them from the record.

CAB examiner Richard A. Walsh replied: "We are not going to strike it. We have to take into consideration that the surveys show a matter of potential."

The motion came as Schneider and Calvin Davison of Washington, D.C., attorney for Central Airlines, cross-examined testimony of C. E. Walts, Hill City, Kan., president of Hi-Plains Airways.

Small City Support

Earlier, Walts declared that many small cities which cannot support their present airline services under CAB "use it or lose it" standards, could and would support the kind of service he proposes.

Representatives of Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska and Dakota communities had presented written testimony at the hearing which included surveys conducted in their cities on the need for air service.

Walts asked authority to operate what he calls "3rd level" air service. He proposes to use 6-passenger, two-engine planes to provide a level of service below that offered by present trunk and feeder lines.

Most cross-examination concerned scheduling, capital structure, costs, personnel and anticipated contracts of Hi-Plains Airways.

Cross-examination was interrupted briefly to hear representatives of Gordon, Neb., and Oberlin, Kan Both supported the Hi-Plains proposal.

John D. Borman of Gordon said his city is particularly interested in the Omaha to Denver route via Chadron. He added that 33% of air passengers out of Alliance had Gordon addresses.

Ira Laidig, secretary of the Oberlin Chamber of Commerce, commented: "We need and ask for a trial period. Nothing can be done if it is not tried."

The hearing will reconvene Thursday.

OPPD Ordered To Serve New Fremont Firm

Fremont (AP)—District Judge Robert Flory has ordered Omaha Public Power District to serve a new alfalfa mill under construction north of Fremont.

Judge Flory ordered a permanent writ of mandamus in the suit brought by Dawson County Feed Products.

At issue was whether a municipality or public power agency can establish service boundaries.

OPPD, the city of Fremont and the utlities section of the League of Nebraska Muncipalities were aligned against the feed products firm.

The city of Fremont had argued that if a customer close to Fremont and OOPD lines can force OPPD to serve them, Fremont stands to lose 23.7% of its power load. That, said the city. is the load delivered outside its city limits, and Fremont is virtually surrounded by other power sources.

The League of Municipalities contended the move would frustrate efforts to voluntarily eliminate overlapping, duplication and conflict of operation of electrical systems in the Fremont area.

Need Seen For Clarifying Laws On Retardation

The need for clarification and correction of Nebraska laws pertaining to the mentally retarded was emphasized Wednesday by members of the Governor's Inter-Agency Committee.

More flexibility is needed in the statues concerning the corelation of the trainable and educable mentally retarded, members indicated.

One committee study group was directed to study the matter.

The committee also recommended that clarification be made in laws pertaining to the newly-created departments of Public Welfare and Institutions which replaced the Board of Control.

Confusion exists over the authority to transfer persons between institutions.

The committee will submit a progress report to Gov. Frank Morrison by Jan. 31.

The next meeting is March 14 at Omaha. Members will visit the Westside Public School to survey its programs for the physically handicapped and mentally retarded.

Parker Aker Files For 25th District Legislative Post

Parker W. Aker, a prominent Polk farmer, filed with the Secretary of State Wednesday as a candidate for the Legislature in the 25th district.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture, Aker is currently president of the Polk County Farmers Union.

The seat in the 25th district has been vacated by Sen. Hans O. Jensen, who has accepted a federal agricultural position.

The district includes Polk, Clay and Hamilton counties.

Also filing Wednesday was George D. Hosea, Lebanon, for the directorship of the Twin Valleys Public Power District.

JFK To Speak At California U.

Washington (UPI) — President Kennedy Wednesday accepted an invitation to speak at the University of California in Berkeley during the third week of March.

Kennedy and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara will receive honorary degrees at special university "Charter Day" observances.

The invitation was extended by Dr. Clark Kerr, president of the university, and the board of regents.

A specific date will be set later for some time during the week of March 19, according to White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger.

Intervenors Seek Rights In Loup Water Case

The State Supreme Court was asked Wednesday to decide whether to let two intervenors share in the decision of a water rights case Max Hickman of Comstock has brought against the Loup River Public Power District.

Hickman brought the action before the State Water Resources Board Sept. 18, 1958, two days before a deadline set by the Legislature for challenging existing water rights.

The water board dismissed the case after the Loup agreed to let Hickman divert some water for power purposes without paying for it.

The Middle Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District and R. L. Cochran, receiver of the North Loup Public Power and Irrigation District, both intervened in the case in behalf of Hickman, after the deadline.

Along with Hickman, they claim his is a class action and if the Loup's water rights are invalidated, they too should share in the judgment.

Hickman contends the Loup never obtained valid rights to the Loup River for power purposes because it failed to complete certain construction and divert the water for beneficial power uses by Aug. 24, 1937, in accordance with the permit granted by the Water Resources Board.

Both Middle Loup and North Loup now must make payments to the Loup district for the water they divert from the Loup River for power.

George Munn of Ord, Middle Loup attorney, said the district did not enter the case before the deadline set up by the Legislature because Middle Loup was involved in a similar action against Loup in federal court.

The courts have ruled that "a water right is established only as it is divert from the Loup River for power.

George Munn of Ord, Middle Loup attorney, said the district did not enter the case before the deadline set up by the Legislature because Middle Loup was involved in a similar action against Loup in federal court.

Failure Argued

The courts have ruled that "a water right is established only as it is diverted for beneficial use in accordance with a permit," Munn said, also arguing that the Loup failed to do this in time.

But Lester A. Danielson of Scottsbluff, Loup attorney, said Hickman's suit cannot be considered a class action since the Middle Loup could have entered the case or brought its own case in time.

He said the Middle Loup was then engaged in federal court trying to circumvent jurisdiction of the state courts in the matter.

Man Makes Fast Return To Court

Mineola, N.Y. (AP) — Robert G. McCue, 20, appeared in traffic court Wednesday and was released in $2,350 bail on several motor vehicle charges. The judge suspended his driver's license until disposition of the case.

McCue put up his bail, left the courtroom, got into his car and started driving off. A court officer stopped him and shepherded him back into the court — this time on a charge of driving while his license was suspended.

The judge added $500 to the bail. McCue put it up and went home by bus.

First Lady Never Gave Consent For Marketing Head

Washington (AP)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy never gave her consent to the marketing in Europe of a head resembling her for a clothes dummy, the White House said Wednesday.

In reply to an inquiry, the White House Press Office said:

"Neither Mrs. Kennedy nor the White House knows anything about it."

A story from Copenhagen last Saturday related that a Danish firm would mass-produce the heads for the clothes figures used in shop windows. Spanish-born artist, Francisco Lopez, designed the head, working from pictures of Mrs. Kennedy.

He was inspired, he said, by Mrs. Kennedy's serene beauty, particularly her face and fine features.

4 World-Herald Officers Promoted

Omaha (AP) — The World-Herald announced the promotion of 4 executives of the newspaper.

The promotions were:

Frederick Ware, from executive editor to vice president and executive editor;

Hugh A. Fogarty, from assistant managing editor and news editor to managing editor;

Harold Andersen, from business administrative assistant to vice president;

R. E. Nordgren, from auditor to treasurer.

Contractors Told Prospects Bright For Big Year

By WOODY HOWE
Star Staff Writer

Construction contracts totaling at least $56.5 million will be awarded by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in the northern plains during 1962, Nebraska contractors learned Wednesday.

Furthermore, prospects are bright for the biggest heavy construction year ever across the country.

Contractors and engineers at the Nebraska Highway-Heavy Associated Contractors of America convention gleaned these facts from addresses delivered by Col. Harry G. Woodbury and Archie N. Carter during the last business session at the Hotel Cornhusker.

A banquet and dance for the 192 registered guests and their wives ended the two-day meeting.

More Authorized

Col. Woodbury, Omaha district engineer, said the contracts definitely set for letting in 1962 are only part of $264 million worth authorized by the government.

The Corps of Engineers is the largest single purchaser of the Nebraska heavy contractors' services, according to James Critchfield, manager of the association's board of directors.

Col. Woodbury congratulated the Lincoln area and particularly Otto Liebers for getting the Salt-Wahoo watershed program started.

The Army engineer said it is hoped that contracts for Hickman Creek and Olive Creek dams—part of the 12-dam Salt-Wahoo project—will be let this spring.

Construction on Antelope Creek Dam, southeast of Lincoln, will begin in early spring, Woodbury hoped.

Progress Reviewed

He reviewed progress on the Missouri River from Omaha to Kansas City, noting the river was now "pretty well under control with work 92% complete."

"We would hope to have a 7½ foot channel to Kansas City by 1964," he said. Contracts totaling $13.8 million are still to be let on this stretch, he noted.

Carter, a Minneapolis consulting engineer, said Department of Commerce statistics show construction outlay of $57.5 billion for 1961—a 3% increase over 1960 and 2% above the record year of 1959. The department expects an even bigger outlay this year.

The contractors' association announced safety awards for:

Dugdale Constr. Co. of Omaha; Dobson Bros. Constr. Co. of Lincoln; Roberts Constr. Co. of Lincoln; Werner & Son of Clay Center; Gerhold Constr. Co. of Columbus; Broden Sand & Gravel Co. of Center; Diamond Eng. Co. of Grand Island; and Lyman-Richey Sand & Gravel of Omaha.

'Squabbles Will Waste Tax Dollar'

AVOID ATTACKS, HOSSACK ASKS

State Engineer John W. Hossack asked Nebraska contractors Wednesday not to attack the State Highway Department on its quality control policies.

Such a squabble, threatened by the Associated General Contractors of America in October, Hossack warned, results only in the waste of taxpayers' money.

Referring to disputes over Interstate Highway construction in other states, Hossack said these expensive "vendettas" may cause taxpayers to "cancel the Federal aid highway program entirely, or, even worse, force more and more control by the federal government."

For the state's part, Hossack promised efforts are being made to ensure payment of final vouchers to contractors on time and to speed testing of jobs in the field.

He asked the highway contractors, for their part, to consult the Highway Department "a little more often to share our gripes."

Looking to the new year, he said, "We hope to take bids on Interstate work as far west as Lexington, and perhaps to Gothenburg if we don't hit a lot of right-of-way snags."

The construction program the State announced for the current biennium is on schedule, Hossack said, and the Interstate "is well on its way to being current."

Hossack made his remarks during the annual convention of the Nebraska Highway-Heavy Associated General Contractors of America at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Catholic Girls Interested In Teaching Plan

More than 15 high school senior girls in the Lincoln diocese have applied for the Catholic Education Corps, a teacher-trainee program.

Through the program, the girls can, within a 5-year period, gain a college degree, teach two years in a parochial school and realize a cash profit, according to Father James D. Dawson.

Father Dawson, director of the Diocesan Bureau of Information, explained that each girl accepted will sign a contract with an elementary school in the Lincoln diocese.

Expenses Paid

The school will provide room, board and tuition at either Duchesne College of the Sacred Heart or the College of St. Mary.

When the girls complete their education—in 3 years, using summer sessions—they will teach for 2 years at sponsoring schools. Salary deductions will be made to repay, without interest, the educational grants.

Father Dawson said all applicants "rank in the top half of their senior class and are recommended by their principals as having the qualities of a good teacher—insofar as this can be predicted."

A group of applicants and their parents will spend Saturday in Omaha visiting the colleges, he said.

Red Officials Killed

Warsaw (AP) — Mongolia's ambassador to Poland, Oydovin Bat Ochir and his driver and two Polish engineers with them all died in a road accident, the Polish press agency PAP reported.

BLAZE GUTS LINCOLN HOME

Fire gutted the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry McLeod at 873 No. 22nd early Wednesday afternoon. No one was home.

The fire department, alerted by Floyd Ballard of 883 No. 22nd, confined the blaze to the inside of the house.

The fire began when the furnace overheated, firemen said.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

A X Y D L B A A X B
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another, in this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. Bradshaw New Kentucky Boss

... ALABAMA ASSISTANT

Lexington, Ky. (AP) — Charlie Bradshaw, who supervised national champion Alabama's offenses, was named Wednesday to bolster the faltering football program at Kentucky, his alma mater.

The Kentucky athletics board announced Bradshaw, a former Kentucky player and assistant coach, signed a 4-year contract as head football coach to replace the ousted Blanton Collier.

The board did not release Bradshaw's salary.

"I know the announcement of my being named head coach will bring mixed emotions," said Bradshaw, 36. "But I hope that the people of Kentucky will give our program a unified effort."

Asked if he thought Kentucky would regain lost prestige in football, Bradshaw said, "there is no doubt in my mind that we are going to get there. If it were not so, I wouldn't be here."

Collier's contract was bought by the athletics board last week. A screening committee had interviewed several applicants for the position during the past week.

The athletics board, in a brief statement, said, "The board has the utmost confidence in Mr. Bradshaw and his ability to furnish the necessary leadership to direct a football program in which the University and commonwealth can take pride."

Bradshaw began his coaching career at Sidney Lanier high school in Montgomery, Ala. and moved to Kentucky as end coach in 1954, Collier's first year. He played under Paul Bryant at Kentucky in 1946-50

He moved to Alabama under Bryant in March, 1959.

Bradshaw did not commit himself on whom he would name as assistants or whether any other Alabama assistants would join him. "I will hire the very best assistants available in football today," he said.

"I am delighted to be here. I know all Kentuckians will rally behind this program 100 per cent."

Bradshaw said he would promote a junior high football program in Kentucky so the state could produce better and more football players.

"We have to think positively," he said.

The Montgomery, Ala. native holds a bachelor's degree in Commerce and physical education and a master's in school administration from Kentucky.

After Bryant left Kentucky in 1953 with an outstanding record — including 3 major bowl games in successive years — Kentucky's won-loss mark under Collier declined.

The Wildcats had a 5-5 record last season after Collier said they would be a contender for the Southeastern Conference title.

Bradshaw met with the wildcat squad Wednesday night. He said he will go to Chicago for the NCAA Convention Friday, return to his home in Alabama for a couple of days and assume full-time duty at Kentucky within a week.

Terry Leads Nelson In Big 10 Race

Chicago (AP) — With the Big 10 basketball race only two games old, Purdue's All-America Terry Dischinger is off to a good start in pursuit of his 3rd successive conference scoring title.

The talented 6 feet-7 Boilermaker has pumped in 76 points against Minnesota and Illinois for a 38-point average. Conference statistics released Wednesday showed Dischinger hotly pursued by Iowa's Don Nelson who has a two-game average of 37.5.

Although Ohio State's sterling Buckeyes are favored to walk off with the Big 10 team championship, Minnesota surprisingly has captured the scoring lead with a 9.25 average in victories over Iowa and Indiana.

Illinois (1-1) is close behind with 90.0, while Ohio State — in league action only once — ranks 5th on its 85-62 triumph over Northwestern. Wisconsin (2-0) is 3rd with 87.0 and Indiana (1-1) 4th with 88.0.

Other top individual shooters behind Dischinger and Nelson include Indiana's Jimmy Rayl with 60 points for a 30.0 average; Minnesota's Eric Magdanz with 57 for 28.5; Ohio State's John Havlicek with 27 in one game.

Devaney To Chicago; Ross Eyes Grades

Bob Devaney, Nebraska's football-coach-to-be, left for Chicago Wednesday evening after a busy two-day organizational whirl on the NU campus.

Devaney will join NU athletic director Tippy Dye at the NCAA convention in the Windy City.

Jim Ross, Devaney's assistant, remained in Lincoln. Ross spent the day visiting with Husker players in regard to eligibility problems.

"There are a few more boys who may be in trouble than we figured on," Ross said. "But that's what usually happens during a change in administrations.

"We're getting right to work, helping the boys with problems get straightened out. We certainly don't want to lose anyone."

Ross will remain in Lincoln for another day or two before returning to Wyoming.

Fishing Good In Panhandle, Sand Hills

Ice fishing is beginning to get into full swing in the Panhandle and the Sand Hills, the Game Commission reported Wednesday.

Perch, bluegill and crappie are being caught in large numbers in those areas. Some large northern pike and walleye are being pulled in at Smith Lake south of Rushville.

Bill Himmnam of Minatare caught a 40 inch, 15 pound northern at Lake Minatare. Box Butte, Whitney reservoirs, Smith Lake and the Niobrara river have also been good producers.

Trout fishing has been profitable around Bayard and Bridgeport. Minnows have been popular bait but bluegill and crappie have done well on ice flys.

Continued cold weather, which is scheduled for the next 3 days, should benefit the ice fisherman. Ice will thicken and conditions for fishing generally improve.

George Noga, 1961 Lincoln Chiefs manager, Wednesday was named by the Chicago White Sox to manage the Sarasota club in the Florida State League next summer.

Noga, starting his 8th season as a White Sox farm club manager, guided the Chiefs to a second place finish in the Three I League last summer.

Prior to moving to Lincoln, Noga—former infielder—managed at Duluth-Superior in the Class C Northern League.

The Florida State League is Class D.

Mistrial In Rassle Suit Says Judge

Des Moines, Iowa (AP)—U.S. District judge Roy Stephenson declared a mistrial Wednesday in a $600,000 damage suit brought against the National Wrestling Alliance and P. L. (Pinkie) George, Des Moines promoter.

The case was filed by Harold C. (Sonny) Myers of St. Joseph, Mo., wrestler and sometimes promoter.

Judge Stephenson notified the participants in the suit that if Myers does not have an attorney in court Jan. 22 to begin the trial, the case will be dismissed.

The court action came after a Des Moines attorney for Myers, James McDowell, failed to appear in court either Monday, when a jury was selected, or Wednesday, when the trial was to begin.

Myers brought the suit in 1955. It was tried in December, 1958, and a jury found for George and the Alliance. The case then was appealed to the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals which reversed the verdict and sent the case back for retrial.

Myers contends that George and the Alliance have conspired to prevent him from booking himself and other wrestlers for shows.

NCAA Endorses New National Amateur Plan

Seeks OK From 18-Man Council

... DIRECT SLAP AT AAU

Chicago (AP)—The NCAA's executive committee Wednesday endorsed wholeheartedly proposed programs to organize new national federations in track and field and gymnastics, in what was another resounding slap at the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU).

The committee's backing of not only track and gymnastic groups, but also the basketball federation already in the making, came in the NCAA 56th annual convention after the policy-making council lifted a one-year probation from the University of Arizona but rejected an appeal by hard-hit Indiana for redress of a 4-year penalty.

The announcement of the executive committee's stand on formation of independent federations for 3 sports further pointed up the rift between the collegiate forces and the AAU, which through the years has been the dominant group in control of international sports participation by the U.S.

However, the executive committee's action still must be approved by the 18-member NCAA council this morning, and then the matter will go before the full convention Saturday for approval or disproval.

Both the National Collegiate Track and Gymnastic Coaches Associations just this week petitioned the NCAA to initiate formation of the national federations in their sports. These petitions were approved in the report submitted to the executive committee Wednesday by the special committee on AAU-Olympic relations, headed by Wilbur Johns of UCLA.

Committee Agrees

In announcing the executive committee's approval of Johns' report, NCAA executive director Walter Byers said: "It is the executive committee's conviction that these new federations will greatly advance and improve these sports in the U.S. in all their phases. And the executive committee pledges its support in any manner necessary to accomplish these worthwhile objectives.

"It is possible other sports will seek national federations."

Wednesday's action came only two days after Byers had disclosed the NCAA had urged the white house to hold off a possible investigation of its differences with the AAU until "all avenues of negotiations are exhausted."

Byers added that "the NCAA's position is if there is no problem or unrest in the administration of a sport, then there is no need for action."

The inference was that the NCAA feels that there is "unrest" and is stepping behind its various coaching groups.

Another prime development at the NCAA's 56th annual convention was a recommendation by the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) calling for drastic changes in construction of football helmets in the wake of a 1961 season in which 37 grid fatalities were recorded.

The 24-man AFCA rules committee forwarded to the NCAA rules committee meeting in Miami Beach next week complete backing of a 4-point program recommended by the American Medical Association as well as the coaches' own suggestion that face masks be stripped from football helmets.

Rule Okays

In all, the coaches group approved 4 items, including use of two wild card substitutes (one now is allowed). In this connection, the coaches also voted to strike a rules clause which "deplores" use of substitutes to convey plays from the bench.

Concerning the Arizona case, it has been expected the council might tarry in lifting the one-year probation for illegal football recruiting inflicted one year ago.

However, the council acted favorably after an appearance by Arizona athletic director Dick Clausen. Arizona originally had voluntarily reported its recruiting violations to the NCAA.

4 Years

Indiana was banned April 27, 1960, for 4 years, from participation in the NCAA's television and national championship programs for illegally recruiting 6 football prospects at a time (1958) the Hoosier school was on NCAA probation for a similar violation.

Indiana athletic director Bill Orwig appeared before the council to back up a written appeal submitted by his school 30 days ago asking that Hoosier sports other than football be freed from the 4-year penalty which does not expire until April of 1964.

Indiana has one of the nation's outstanding swimming teams and a good baseball club but under the NCAA penalty is barred from championship competition conducted by the NCAA in either sport.

Huskers Lead Big 8 Chase

... NIP SOONERS, 57-56

By BOB McCOY
Star Sports Writer

Nebraska's basketball team, seemingly never content to catch its breath, took the lead in the Big 8 Conference race with a 57-56 down-to-the-wire victory over Oklahoma Wednesday night.

The Cornhuskers moved to 2-0 in the week-old Big 8 race in racking up their 4th straight home victory of the season in as many starts. OU is now 2-1 in the Big 8.

Once again, coach Jerry Bush's crew left plenty of doubts and kept a crowd of 4,000 packed in the cozy Coliseum until the final gun.

Grupe Hits

Ivan Grupe's free throw with 16 seconds left gave the Huskers the victory cushion. It put NU ahead 57-54 and made Eddie Evans' final bucket for OU useless.

The one-point decision was the 5th the Huskers have been involved in this year and the 2nd win by that margin.

NU also has a 2-point win, a 3-pointer and a 4-pointer. So Husker basketball hasn't been boring — at least in the final minutes.

Wednesday night was a perfect example. The first 35 minutes were close, but not too exciting.

But the action warmed those final 5 and the fans and Huskers went along with it.

Oklahoma had a 48-47 lead with 5:00 to go and the issue was very much in doubt. Then Nebraska spurted for 7 points and just barely held off a last-ditch Sooner effort.

Grupe, No. 1 hero among several for the Huskers, whipped in a dandy hook shot to put NU ahead 49-48. Then Tom Russell scored a 3-point play to make it 52-48. Rex Swett banked in two points and Nebraska was ahead 54-48 with 3:30 to go.

OU had had it, but was hard to convince. Stan Morrison hit a jump shot, then Russell scored on a layin. Warren Fouts and Evans each connected for the Sooners and it was 56-54 with 1:10 to go.

Daryl Petsch and Swett each missed on 1-1 free throws which could have salted it away for the Huskers before Grupe came through with the clincher with 16 seconds left.

Nebraska had a 9-point bulge, biggest by either team, early in the first half when Petsch went on an 8-point spree.

Fine outside shooting by Tom McCurdy and Sooner free throw accuracy finally pulled the Sooners ahead 30-29 at the break.

Snail Pace

The game remained snail-pace and nip-and-tuck until things got frantic in those closing minutes.

Petsch topped NU scorers with 15 points, Grupe had 14 and Russell 11. Morrison and Evans each collected 13 for the Sooners.

NU was outshot 39.6% to 32.8% from the field and the Sooners cashed 14 of 15 free throws, but the Huskers' edge in total shots and rebounds erased the deficit.

Nebraska is now 6-7 for the season and shoots for the .500 mark Saturday night against Colorado (1-0 in the Big 8 and 6-5 for the year).

Oklahoma is now 4-9 overall, but still in Big 8 contention.

Sturdivant Signs

Pittsburgh (AP)— The Pittsburgh Pirates announced the signing of pitcher Tom Sturdivant, 31-year-old right-hander, for the 1962 season.

Sturdivant is the 3rd Pirate to sign. He joined the club in mid-season last year and scored 5 victories and two losses.

'61 Injuries Set Stage For Fitness

Chicago (AP) — A 9-point program aimed at reducing the number of football fatalities, with emphasis on physical conditioning and examinations, was recommended Wednesday night by the committee on injuries and fatalities of the American Football Coaches Association.

Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood of Los Angeles State college, chairman of the committee, said the recommendation resulted from: "Unusual increases in the number of fatal injuries in football across the nation in 1961.

"Dr. Eastwood, in reviewing the program to be presented the AFCA general meeting for consideration today at the NCAA convention, said a national survey showed there were 47 fatalities involving football players last season, in sandlot, high school, college and semipro ranks. He said 20 were direct, 18 indirect and 9 classified as non-football deaths.

The nine recommendations are:

1. Continued attention to maintaining adequate salt balance during practice and game situations. This is aimed at avoiding heat exhaustion.

2. Require thorough physical examination, including electric cardiograms, of all candidates for a team before the first practice session of each season. Dr. Eastwood said 22 per cent of heart conditions could have been diagnosed in advance had the player been properly examined and had an electric cardiogram.

3. Co-ordinated efforts among several research projects on helmet construction with a better and more protective helmet being made available. Dr. Eastwood said the AFCA rules committee Wednesday had recommended elimination of the face mask from the helmet, a shorter and less-imposing face mask if the mask is not banned, and sponge rubber padding at the back of the helmet so it cannot dig into a player's neck.

4. Acceptance of an improved design of a face-nose guard with rules of its use being established. Grabbing a ball carrier by the face mask, banned Tuesday by the two U.S. Pro football leagues still is permissible in college play.

5. Renewed and greatly increased emphasis on body conditioning during the pre-season period, including tumbling, wrestling and weight lifting to counter what Dr. Eastwood called "our push-button age."

6. More extensive use of the quick whistle by game officials to minimize the piling on of a downed ball carrier.

7. More consistent calls by game officials on illegal defensive blocking, especially the practice of the face block, grasping the face guard, and use of the arm or elbow against the face guard.

8. More emphasis on teaching players to keep their heads up at all times while blocking, tackling and carrying the ball. Dr. Eastwood said he disagrees with those coaches who claim injuries are caused by keeping the head up.

9. A 60-second warmup be required before entering a game or scrimmage at any time. The committee survey, he said, showed that most injuries occur within the first 5 minutes a player is in a game.

Mets Take 45 Players To Training

New York (AP) — The New York Mets announced Wednesday that 45 players, including 10 from their minor league clubs, would be asked to report to spring baseball training next month at St. Petersburg.

The Mets, new members of the National League, disclosed that 128 players in all would be assigned to the New York club and its various minor league affiliates.

Here is the breakdown: Mets, 35; Syracuse in the International League, 19; Santa Barbara in the California (Class C) League, 30; Auburn in the New York-Penn (Class D) League, 25; Quincy in the Midwest (Class D) League, 19.

Syracuse will train at Dade City, Fla., starting March 25. Santa Barbara will train at a West Coast site, yet to be selected. Quincy and Auburn will train in the Carolinas or Georgia, the site also undecided.

—MANY ARE HUNTING NEW JOBS—

Familiar Husker Names At NCAA Coaches Talks

Lincoln Star Special

Chicago, Ill.—Some 800 college football coaches arrived here Wednesday for their portion of the NCAA convention.

And one of the largest common denominators seemed to be the University of Nebraska.

All of the present Husker assistants were on hand except Cletus Fischer, who already has been retained by Nebraska. Bill Jennings, who has accepted a position as backfield coach at Kansas, will not attend.

Putting on their appearance here with the hope of lining up jobs are LeRoy Pearce, Don Scarbrough, Dick Monroe, George Kelly, Jack Braley and Harry Tolly.

Bob Devaney, the next Nebraska coach, is due today.

Former Jennings' assistant Warren Schmakel arrived, full of praise for the Rutgers team he helped coach to an undefeated season.

Pete Elliott, the Husker boss in 1956 and now coach at Illinois, arrived with his group of former Huskers including Bill Taylor, Dee Andros and Gene Stauber.

From the Bill Glassford era at Nebraska there was Bob Faris, an NU freshman coach and now athletic director at George Washington.

Along with Elliott another Husker head man in attendance was Bernie Masterson (1946-47) who lives in Chicago.

Nebraska's athletic directors past and present had a lobby visit. Bill Orwig was in town to plead, unsuccessfully, with the NCAA in regard to Indiana's 4-year probation which has another two years to run. Tippy Dye is working on future Husker schedules and will also huddle with Devaney when he arrives.

There was a meeting with the McKillip brothers. Don is coach at McCook Junior College and Leo, a Husker gridder, is now backfield coach at Idaho State.

Also in attendance are Tom McLaughlin of Hastings college, Al Papik of Doane and Virgil Yelkin, athletic director at Omaha U.

The coaches begin their sessions Thursday with Bud Wilkinson slated to make the first talk.

But job hunting seems to be the biggest item of business although most of the head coaching jobs have been filled.

Biggest name coach still unemployed is Bill Meek, formerly at Kansas State and discharged after the season by Southern Methodist.

And even there Nebraska has a connection. One of Meek's assistants is Marvin (Preacher) Franklin, who was at NU with Bill Glassford.

JAPANESE TOP AUSSIE TEAM

Melbourne, Australia (AP) — Japan's swimmers completed their dominance over Australian natators Wednesday night by breaking the world record for the 440 yards medley relay while winning their 4th consecutive meet in this country.

The medley relay foursome of Shigeo Fukushima, backstroke; Morito Shigematsu, breaststroke; Yoshisuke Satao, butterfly, and Tsuyoshi Yamanaka, freestyle, was timed in 4:12.8.

This clipped 1.4 seconds off the listed world mark of 4:14.2 set by Australia's national team at the British Empire games at Cardiff, Wales, in July 1958.

Liston-Katz Affair Reported On Rocks

... FLOYD WANTS TO FIGHT

Philadelphia (AP)—Boxer Sonny Liston has told the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission he can't get along with manager George Katz and is considering a change.

Al Klein, Philadelphia member of the 3 man commission, said something definitely is going to happen but exactly what he was unable to say.

Klein said both Liston and Katz, and Katz says he can't get through to Liston," Klein reports.

"Each indicates a cooling off toward the other," the commissioner said.

Meanwhile, in New York, heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson told columnist Milton Gross of the New York Post that he felt Liston deserved a shot at the title.

The champion added that he is willing to give the Philadelphia challenger a chance but "under the conditions that I ask for."

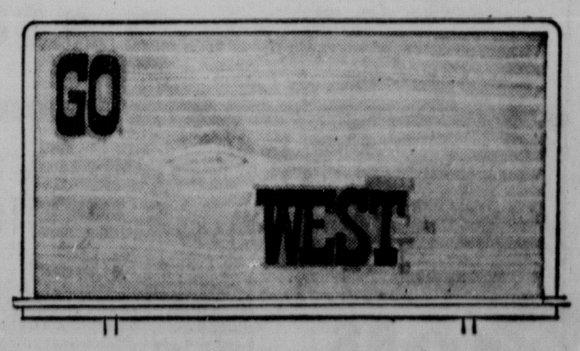
"They're not bad conditions," Patterson added. "All I ask is a fair deal."

He said if he fights Liston the bout must be held in the summer and preferably in New York.

Patterson said something may be worked out in the next 3 or 4 weeks.

Liston was unavailable for comment. The No. 1 challenger for Patterson's heavyweight title has changed his telephone number and it is unlisted. Katz says he doesn't even know the new number.

Katz claims he hasn't conferred with Liston lately. He says he hasn't tried to arrange a fight for his heavyweight because he's waiting to see what Patterson is going to do.



Harmony Ends AFL Meeting

...WISMER, FOSS HAPPY

San Diego, Calif. (AP) — Directors of the American Football League ended their winter meeting on a harmonious note Wednesday, giving commissioner Joe Foss a new 5-year contract and pledging an all-out effort to stay alive.

The anticipated renewal of a bitter clash between Foss, the ex-Marine flying ace of World War II, and Harry Wismer, president of the New York Titans, failed to materialize.

The owners voted unanimously to tear up Foss' contract, which was to expire this year, and give him a new one with an undisclosed boost in pay.

Wismer was present at the after-midnight session when word was announced of the league's support of Foss, and said he wasn't mad at anybody, Foss included.

There was no demand by Wismer, as he had previously promised, to move the league headquarters from Dallas to New York. The only reference to this was a recommendation by one of the owners to add Chicago to the list of cities eligible as headquarters, but this was defeated without much discussion.

In a final session this morning, Foss named a committee composed of Wayne Valley of Oakland, Ralph Wilson of Buffalo and Lamar Hunt of Dallas to study ways and means of gaining a better balance between the 8 clubs.

"We want competition within the league and our idea is to try to upgrade all clubs, not downgrade the stronger ones," said Foss.

Wismer, in a separate interview, said he had been upset when he learned from outside sources that Foss had canceled a secret draft of college players undertaken without the commissioner's knowledge by the owners several weeks ago.

But he said some of the "New York press, possibly inspired by the (National Football League) New York Giants'" had blown his remarks out of proportion.

KS Bounces Back; Slaps Jays, 70-45

Manhattan, Kan. (AP)—Kansas State, smarting from a 75-61 defeat by Colorado Saturday, rebounded to wallop Big 8 rival Kansas 70-45 Wednesday night.

The Wildcats jumped off to a 13-4 lead before the Jayhawks hit their initial field goal with 5 minutes gone. Kansas State, 5th-ranked nationally, never trailed after the first 9 seconds. It led at half 38-27.

STAN GETS FILLED UP

Mickey Mantle, left, of the New York Yankees, and Warren Spahn, right, of the Milwaukee Braves, playfully fill up Stan Musial's award from their own awards. Mantle received the Eddie Dyer Award for being baseball's most courageous player of 1961. Musial received 1962 Tris Speaker Memorial Award for his contributions to baseball over the years. Spahn received the Dickie Kerr Award as the outstanding pitcher last year. The awards were presented at the second annual major league baseball dinner in Houston.

—A HAPPY NOTE IN COLLEGE RELATIONS—

LSU Wouldn't Stand Between Paul, Dream

By STEVE SNYDER

New York (UPI) — Like the man said, "Louisiana State was here before Paul Dietzel arrived and it'll be here after he's gone."

So L.S.U. let Paul go to West Point where the eminently qualified young (38) football coach fulfills a dream he had while serving earlier as an assistant to coach Earl (Red) Blaik. Dietzel wanted Army, though he had 4 years to go on his L.S.U. contract, and Army wanted Dietzel.

The cooler heads that prevailed at L.S.U., letting Paul out of the remaining years of his contract, rate a bow. They wanted Dietzel just as badly as Army did but it's tough to stand between a man and his dream.

However, the "Dietzel case" points up one of the oddities in the relations between a football coach and the college that hires him.

If he has a long-term contract, it's all in the coach's favor. He's the only one that can break it—with permission, of course. If the schools wants to fire him, it has to pay off on the remainder of the contract, if any.

And that's the only break he gets. Coaching college football is as precarious a profession as managing a major league baseball team.

More than 70 colleges had to hire new coaches for 1961 to replace others who were axed, retired or fed up with the rat race. Some years the total soars to 100.

Only a handful of top-notchers have any sort of social security. That includes Woody Hayes of Ohio State, Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma, Johnny Vaught of Mississippi, Darrell Royal of Texas, Frank Howard of Clemson, Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech, Rip Engle of Penn State, Ben Schwartzwalder of Syracuse, Jordan Olivar of Yale, Bob Blackman of Dartmouth and probably a few others whose names don't pop to mind.

Every year, smaller schools reluctantly let successful coaches move to greener pastures rather than stand in the way of a young man's progress.

Frequently a major school will let a coach go so the coach can return to his alma mater, regardless of the unexpired term he may have. And occasionally, there's a case similar to Dietzel's.

But, as in baseball, the guy running the team is on a hot seat and is just as likely to be fired for the failures of others as for his own shortcomings.

Both baseball and football have the fans to consider. In football, there's always a high-pressure alumni group that has to be satisfied. In baseball, the day-in, day-out customer is even more vocal and the quickest guy to blame for a series of defeats is the manager.

Personally, we should think Dietzel had a better arrangement at Louisiana State than he'll have at West Point.

Panama Blasts Open Mudecas Tournament

Lincoln Star Special

Beatrice — The Mudecas tournament ranges a wide open affair going into today's action as Panama knocked off the only remaining defending champion with a 54-49 win over Bennet.

Panama overcame a 44-38 3rd quarter deficit outscoring last year's Class B titleholder 16-5 in the final canto. David Doeschop sparked the winner's attack with 16 points while Gary English was tops for Bennet with 15.

Liberty rolled to its second win of the tournament in Class C with a 40-36 margin over Malcolm behind Larry Hansen's 15 point performance. Malcolm tied the winners in the 3rd quarter after being down by 11 points at half-time.

Lewiston took a Class B win from Sterling 38-35 to advance to the semi-finals against Panama today at 6:00 p.m.

Beatrice St. Joseph's knocked Hickman out of contention with a 59-38 romp after grabbing a 30-20 half-time lead. St. Joe will play Adams this afternoon at 4:30 in more semi-final action.

Other games today are Sprague-Martel vs. Odell and Holmesville vs. Steinauer.

U.S. Girl Wins Women's Slalom

Grindelwald, Switzerland (AP) — Linda Meyers of Bishop, Calif., established herself as a threat for world championship honors Wednesday by winning the women's giant slalom event of the Grindelwald international ski races.

The 24-year-old American student, 3rd in the slalom event Tuesday, was first down the 1,100 meter (1,203 yards) giant course and she covered the distance in 1 minute, 33.1 seconds. She beat the world's best.

Two Austrian girls finished close behind, Christl Haas in 1:33.3 and Traudl Hecher in 1:33.8, with the experienced Therese LeDuc of France taking 4th in 1:34 flat.

The next best American showing was that of Barbara Ferries, 17-year-old Aspen, Colo., girl, who finished 6th in 1:35. Jean Saubert of Lakeview, Ore., tied with Barbi Henneberger of West Germany for 15th in 1:36.8. Joan Hannah of Franconia, N.H., was 30th in 1:40. The best Canadian showing was 38th by Linda Crutchfield, 1:42.3.

More than 90 women skiers from 18 nations are competing in the first major European tuneup for the world alpine championships next month at Chamonix, France.

Snow conditions and visibility were good for the colorful giant slalom but a bitterly cold wind whipped across the slopes in this mile-high altitude.

Observers felt that Miss Meyers had an advantage over the field in drawing the first number but the American did not entirely agree. "It all depends on whether you feel lucky or not," she said. "Wednesday I felt lucky — and I liked it."

Miss Ferries said, "I almost crashed near the top. The track was much faster than I thought."

Miss Hannah, the U.S. team's slalom specialist, was unlucky. Racing strongly, she took a spill two gates from the finish and lost precious seconds.

"I don't know why I fell — just lousy," she complained.

Robert Beattie of Boulder, Colo., the U.S. head coach, was pleased with the girls' showing but warned against over-confidence. "Our showing could be better — we still have much to do before the world championships."

Marianne Jahn of Austria, winner of the slalom Tuesday, finished 7th in the giant slalom and Heidi Biebl of Germany, the runnerup Monday, came in 12th.

The top ten finishers, plus U.S. and Canadian rankings:

1.	Linda Meyers, Bishop, Calif.	1:33.1
2.	Christl Haas, Austria	1:33.3
3.	Traudl Hecher, Austria	1:33.8
4.	Therese Leduc, France	1:34.0
5.	Mariell Goitshei, France	1:34.3
6.	Barbara Ferries, Aspen, Colo.	1:35.0
7.	Marianne Jahn, Austria	1:35.2
8.	Christine Goitschel, France	1:35.7
9.-10.	(tie) Erica Netzer, Austria
	Christl Staffner, Austria	1:36.3
15.	Jean Saubert, Lakeview Ore.	1:36.8
30.	Joan Hannah, Franconia, N.H.	1:40.0
38.	Linda Crutchfield, Canada	1:42.3
53.	Nancy Greene, Canada	1:45.8
54.	Wivki Rutledge, Canada	1:46.9

Nancy Holland, Canada, abandoned race.

Dodger Park Will Be Ready For Opener

Los Angeles (AP) — Construction of the Dodgers' baseball stadium is far ahead of schedule and there's no question the park will be ready for opening day April 10, the contractors said.

Even in the unlikely event of rain that would hamper construction they're prepared to carry on, said Jack Yount, vice president of Vinnell Constructors.

Bowling Clinic

Ask a dozen topflighters what they feel is the key form function, and you'll get a dozen different answers.

Ed Lubanski, ex-world match king, says you'll get nowhere until you let the ball swing of its own weight — to create a constant swing groove. He's got a fine point. One you should remember.

Lee Jouglard stresses a straight-in-line stride. Junie McMahon emphasizes going into a crouch with the first step — breaking low at the waist.

I like Steve Nagy's tip: "Push the ball forward, sort of to the right, so that the ball swings back snug against the body. In that way you'll swing the arm outward, to coming down. It gives you the right, in the same groove.

NFL Signs TV Pact With CBS For 1962

... DISTRIBUTE $320,000 EQUALLY

Miami Beach, Fla. (AP)—The National Football League signed a two-year $9.3 million television contract with a single network (CBS) Wednesday under which each of the 14 clubs will receive about $320,000 a year.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said the only club that would receive less for its TV rights was Baltimore, which worked with a different network last season. Pittsburgh, which also had a separate deal, will receive about the same as last year, Rozelle said.

"All the other clubs will receive appreciably more," he said. "All 14 clubs are happy. Equality of competition has been the greatest single factor in the success of the league.

"This equal distribution of TV income will aid us appreciably in preserving a balanced league. It will enable teams like Dallas and Minnesota, both of which have made spectacular strides in their short existence, to compete on an even stronger level with the established clubs."

Rozelle said all the clubs, except Dallas, made money during the past season. He re-emphasized there was no talk of merger with the rival American Football League.

Under the old agreement, each club made separate deals with networks or sponsors. A league contract with one network (CBS) was negotiated last April but was nullified in July when a federal judge ruled it violated an anti-trust law.

The league then reverted to its policy of separate deals by each club in 1961. Eleven used CBS facilities. Baltimore and Pittsburgh worked with NBC and Cleveland worked with sports network. As a result some non-league cities had two games on the same day.

A bill, introduced by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., was signed in October by President Kennedy. The law exempts pro football, baseball, basketball and hockey leagues from anti-trust law in the area of a single network TV contract.

Bill MacPhail, vice president of CBS television sports, said the network would handle the road games of all 14 clubs, plus a network game on Thanksgiving Day and two late season Saturday games from California.

In the event of a tie at the end of the season, CBS will have the rights. However, the championship game contract with NBC still has one year to go at $615,000 a year.

"The bidding for the title game always will be separate from our regular season package," said Rozelle.

MacPhail said his network also had an option on preseason games with the rights reverting to the individual clubs if the option was not exercised.

He said the total costs, including $4,650,000 a year from the rights, probably would come close to $10 million a year including time and production.

Two sets of announcers will work each game, one for each of the regional networks. When the football season starts, the network's Sunday baseball broadcasts will be pre-empted.

MacPhail said TV coverage would not change appreciably except in the deep south where Washington and Baltimore, both of those games were shown in the area last season, will share a network.

Rozelle said the $4,650,000 would be split 14 ways annually after a deduction of $40,000 each for the two late season Saturday games and league fees. He estimated each club would get about $320,000.

The league spent the balance of the day of its final session trying to agree on pre-season exhibition schedules. They will be announced later by individual clubs.

Better Fishing Board Elected

The board of directors for the Nebraska Better Fishing Association has been elected for 1962. Seven were elected to two-year terms, 7 to one-year terms and 1961 president Phil Reider was returned for another year.

The group will hold its election of officers at the next regular meeting. Board electees:

Two-year terms: Frank J. Miller, Fern Mosier, Alex Kehler, Henry Reider, Harry Jesperson, Alex Fischer, Joe Kreiner.

One-year terms: Farley Young, George Christensen, Dr. H. C. Zellers, Bernard Patton, Gale Smith, Arthur Chaplin, Harold Barr.

Diego, Mitinger Agree To Terms

San Diego, Calif. (AP) — The American Football League's San Diego Chargers said that Bob Mitinger, Penn State end, had agreed to contract terms.

Mitinger, whose home is in Greensburg, Pa., was the Chargers' 5th draft choice and the 3rd choice of the Washington Redskins of the National Football League.

U.S. Exports Rose As Imports Held Steady In '61

Washington (UPI) — Exports of American goods climbed to a record $20.1 billion in 1961 and imports of foreign goods held steady at $14.7 billion the Commerce Department reported Wednesday.

The export surplus of $5.4 billion was the largest in several years and a major reason for the shrinkage in overall outflow of U.S. gold and dollars, which dropped to about $1.75 billion.

Jack N. Behrman, assistant secretary of commerce for international affairs, pointed out that the export surplus shrank during 1961 from an annual rate of $6.9 billion in January-March to $4.5 billion in the last 6 months.

More Effort

Achieving "a sufficiently favorable trading position" in 1962, Behrman said, "will require intensified efforts and sound policies by U.S. business, labor and government." The government has been putting pressure on business and labor to avoid excessive price and wage increases lest American goods be priced out of foreign markets.

Behrman estimated the world export market for non-Communist countries at more than $100 billion and said the United States must capture a larger share of it.

The department said the $20.1 billion in 1961 exports of non-military goods was up $500 million from 1960 and $3.7 billion from 1959. At $14.7 billion, imports last year were unchanged from 1960.

Declines Offset

Declines in exports of cotton, steel, aluminum and aircraft, all big plus items in 1960, were more than offset in 1961 by gains in shipments abroad of machine tools, office appliances, other machinery and wheat.

Despite economic expansion in Europe last year, Behrman said, U.S. exports to that continent failed to advance. Shipments to Japan rose by about one-third, with especially sharp increases for copper and steel scrap.

Sales in Latin America improved as 1961 unfolded, especially in Venezuela, Peru, Argentina, and Brazil. Exports to Cuba, embargoed in October, 1960, fell to less than $15 million in 1961, compared to $223 million in 1960.

Later Rose

Imports into the United States fell in the early months of 1961 because of a business recession here. As the economy recovered imports rose. By October-December they reached a yearly rate of $16 billion, some $2.5 billion above the January-March pace. Gains were especially sharp in tin, iron ore, steel mill products, petroleum and saw mill products.

Bowles Hits Schools, Press For Lack Of Understanding

Cleveland (AP) — Presidential adviser Chester Bowles blamed American education, press, radio and television Wednesday night for what he said is lack of public understanding of world affairs.

He spoke of their "inability . . . to communicate the true depth of today's problems."

And he linked this with what he called a gap "between the harsh realities of world affairs with which our policy makers in Washington must deal on a daily basis, and the lack of understanding of these realities among the major segment of our population."

Bowles in a speech before the Association of American Colleges, said failure to understand the world as it is today can be disastrous.

He cited these subjects as areas of misunderstanding:

The ferment in underdeveloped countries, the hard reality of Soviet power, emergence of Communist China as the potentially greatest force in Asia, and the scientific and technological revolution now sweeping the world.

The result, Bowles said, has been fears and frustrations which have led many Americans to believe war is inevitable.

"Others, appalled at the complexity of international affairs, seek release from reality in a hunt for culprits in their own neighborhoods who fail to conform with their own views," he continued.

Bowles said such people are "presumably thoughtful citizens" but they demand the United States withdraw from the United Nations, abandon its allies, raise tariffs, and cut the budget "while simultaneously threatening war against any nation which earns our displeasure."

The former undersecretary of state, who was named Kennedy's special adviser in November, singled out the schools as the fundamental reason for this lack of understanding.

He suggested a re-examination of what schools offer in the fields of history, economics and international relations.

At the same time Bowles blamed many newspapers, radio and television stations and magazines for part of the misunderstanding.

These communications media, he said, "dramatize nonessentials to over simplify complex questions, and to imply U.S. impotence one day and omnipotence the next."

This attitude, he said, has helped create "a national mood of confusion and frustration."

Bowles criticized TV news commentators, saying, "we are all familiar with those television 'newsmen' reading the day's soberest headlines with the reckless abandon of sport announcers."

Snow, Cold Alter Habits

. . . ODD THINGS OCCUR

By The Associated Press

Winter added new wrinkles to human habits Wednesday.

With much of the nation hit by icy cold and heavy snows, people resorted to various devices to cope with the problem.

In Homewood, Ala., a suburb of Birmingham, some law-abiding citizens spent a night in jail — just to keep warm.

They were stranded motorists, and police opened the cells to them.

Almost Oddity

For the South, the snow was almost an oddity. Middle Tennessee parents swamped doctors with calls asking if it was safe for children to eat the stuff.

They were afraid it might be contaminated with radioactive fallout. But health authorities said tests showed no taint.

"I tell them to go ahead and make snow cones," said John J. Lentz, public health director for Nashville and Davidson County.

From Big Piney, Wyo., one of the nation's coldest spots, came this advice for beating the cold:

"Keep active."

This was the cold-weather prescription of Chuck Davis, mayor of the mountain town in western Wyoming where it was 43 degrees below zero.

Doesn't Hurt

"Our cold is very dry . . . and 40 to 50 below really doesn't hurt you," he said. "Most people keep active . . . keep working. You never find anyone outside standing still."

Long woolen and insulted underwear still is popular thereabouts, however.

In Montgomery, Ala., some people had it worse than a dog's life. The city pulled 6 police dogs off their beats because of the sleet and snow, but ordered a street crew out to sand icy bridges.

In Pensacola, Fla., cold proved more attractive to one man than hot.

Hot To Cold

Claude Hariden of Dallas, a truck driver, jumped 50 feet into frigid Chotawatchee River after his clothing caught fire from a burst gas tank that ignited when his truck crashed on a bridge to avoid a skidding car.

"I nearly froze," he said, after swimming 30 feet to a small island. "But I had no choice."

In Buffalo, N.Y., a 4-caboose train chugged out on a spur to rescue about 70 motorists stranded on a snow-packed waterfront thoroughfare. Twelve of those picked up were children.

Not Bothered

Being snowbound didn't bother a group of the nation's top missile scientists at all. In fact, they were enjoying it.

They live atop Monte Sano Mountain, near the Redstone Arsenal at Huntville, Ala., and with snow confining them at home, they simply went in for sport — or homework.

Telephone checks showed some of them went skiing. Dr. Ernst Stuhlinger, director of the Research Projects Division at the Marshall Space Flight Center, said he built a rather handsome snowman.

Many Southern youngsters had their first gleeful experience in this art.

Willing Hands

In Memphis, Tenn., two Roman Catholic youths, students at Christian Brothers College, ran interference through snow-stalled cars to get a Jewish woman to a Baptist Hospital ahead of the stork.

Irby Cooper, with his wife on the verge of childbirth, had bogged down in a traffic jam. The two students took over as volunteer advance runners to clear vehicles from the path of the Cooper car over a 4-mile stretch.

With similar resourcefulness, a group of truck drivers formed a brigade on a frozen hill on the main street of Pineville, La., to push vehicles up it, and thus prevent traffic through the city from being tied up completely.

Good Deed

In Ridgewood, N.J., Boy Scouts of Troop 6 offered a timely good deed — to shovel snow free from the sidewalks of elderly persons. A village ordinance says snow must be cleared from sidewalks within 48 hours.

The Brownsville, Texas, Weather Bureau, a bit bewildered by the 20-degrees-above-zero temperatures expected in the Rio Grande Valley, put this frustrated message on its wire:

"A thorough interrogation of all personnel on duty reveals that no one knows at what temperature a radiator on a car will freeze."

Shark Had Arm

Sydney, Australia (UPI)—A shark caught by a fisherman near here was found to have a human right arm in its stomach, authorities said. The fish was caught some 200 yards from the area where William McLeod disappeared when a fishing launch carrying him and two other passengers overturned in heavy seas.

Boun Oum Agrees To Princely Talks

Vientiane, Laos (AP) — Premier Boun Oum agreed Wednesday to a new meeting of Laos' princes in Geneva only two weeks after he balked at a carefully arranged princely summit in his own capital.

There was no indication he was any more willing now than then to give in to neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma and Souvanna's pro-Communist half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong, on issues deadlocking formation of a unified government.

But the pro-American premier obviously surrendered a bit to the pressure of his American and Western friends who want him to give neutrality a new trial with the blessings of the 14-nation Geneva Conference on Laos.

A government spokesman said Boun Oum had decided to go to Geneva "to settle all questions of the Lao problem."

Only Tuesday Finance Minister Phouangpheth Pahanareth, in a statement prepared in consultation with several other ministers, declared "pressure now being exercised on the royal government to make it deviate from its duty and dignity is intolerable."

The finance minister said Laos people would rather undergo "the rigors of great austerity than fail in their mission."

The United States has held up Laos' monthly aid check of $3 to $4 million since the meeting of the 3 princes collapsed here Dec. 27. With an income of only about $5 million a year Laos is unable to support its 70,000-man, U.S.-trained army without the monthly checks.

In the Dec. 27 meeting Boun Oum accused Souvanna of not being a real neutral.

The cause of the deadlock is Boun Oum's demand that the defense and interior ministers of the new government be from his own rightist faction. He fears that if these posts went to Souvanna's neutralists they actually would be under the thumb of Souphanouvong, leader of the Communist-supported Pathet Lao guerrilla army.

Commodity Loans Deadline Jan. 31

The deadline for ASC loans and purchase agreements on several farm commodities harvested in 1961 is Jan. 31.

Dale E. Nelson, Lancaster County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee chairman, said the deadline applies to barley, grain sorghum, oats, rye, soybeans and wheat.

Loans and purchase agreements on corn will be available through May 31, Nelson said.

Gov. Brown To Reveal His Plans Jan. 24

New York (UPI) — California Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown said Wednesday he will make a formal announcement Jan. 24 on whether he will run for re-election.

"I am not a candidate as yet," Brown said. "I will make a formal announcement on that at a private dinner in San Francisco Jan. 24," the Democratic governor said.

Although not specifically saying if he would run or not, Brown discussed campaign issues with newsman and criticized former vice president Richard M. Nixon, a contender for the Republican nomination, for being "soft" on the John Birch Society.

Asked if he would make the Birch Society an issue in the campaign if he runs, Brown replied:

"I don't have to make it an issue. It is an issue."

Brown, who spoke to newsmen at Idlewild Airport before flying to Los Angeles, said the ultra-right wing Birch group was "still very strong in Southern California."

He characterized the society as "a dangerous group of know-nothings who attack everyone from former President Eisenhower to President Kennedy as left wing."

Petite Mother Went On Wild Trip, 'Out Of Fear'

Shelby, N.C. (AP) — Police quoted a young petite mother here Wednesday as saying she accompanied her ex-convict boyfriend on a wild 21-day trip under fear of her life.

"Oh, where is my baby?" Shelby Police Chief Knox Hardin said Mrs. Barbara Ann Layne, 20, of Lynchburg, Va., cried upon her arrest here.

Hardin said Malcolm Thomas Cash, 31, also of Lynchburg, abducted Mrs. Layne, who is separated from her husband, from her home early the morning of Dec. 20.

Wrote Letter

The police official said, however, that Mrs. Layne later admitted she wrote a letter home saying she was not abducted. He said Cash claims the girl accompanied him on her own accord.

Cash and Mrs. Layne and Bobby Dean Davis, 22, of Shelby, were arrested here during a robbery investigation. Cash and Mrs. Layne were charged with fornication and adultery before police learned their background, but officers said they have no plans to drop the charge.

Arrested later were Johnny (Buck) Davis, Bobby Dean's brother, and William C. Oliver, 28, both of Shelby. The 4 men were charged with breaking and entering and larceny and receiving in connection with an $84 oil company robbery here Monday night.

Were Asleep

Hardin said Mrs. Layne, her 2-year-old daughter, Terry Leigh, and an aunt were asleep in their house when Cash broke through a bathroom window, struck the aunt with an iron pipe, and forced Mrs. Layne to accompany him in a small truck which he hid outside of Lynchburg during the day of Dec. 20 while officers conducted an air and ground search.

Chief Hardin quoted Mrs. Layne, a pretty blonde, as saying that Cash forced her to have sexual relations with him in the truck while they hid and subsequently forced her to be intimate with him nearly every night afterward.

"Mack (Cash) told me if I ever tried to get away, he would kill me," Hardin quoted the girl. He said she quoted Cash as saying that even if he was caught, "I'll get out again and get you."

Attendance Off At Traditional D.C. Church Service

Washington (AP) — The traditional services held at the National Presbyterian Church on the opening day of Congress had only a small attendance Wednesday — presumably because of cold and snow.

The church auditorium was only one-third full, compared to the packed crowd that attended last year along with the then President, Dwight D. Eisenhower, and vice president, Richard M. Nixon. Eisenhower was a member of the church during his 8 years in office.

The snow that started during the night was still coming down when the 8 a.m. communion service began. It had stopped by the end of the 45-minute ceremony, leaving a couple of inches of snow. Traffic outside was creeping.

Those who attended the service prayed for God's guidance in the new session which began Wednesday, for the nation, for President Kennedy and for all the nation's leaders.

Among members of Congress present were: Sens. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., and John Stennis, D-Miss., and Reps. John R. Pillion, R-N.Y., L. H. Fountain, D-N.C., Alexander Pirnie, R-N.Y., and Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis.

Iran's Feudal System Faces Land Reform

Tehran, Iran (AP) — The government is aiming to break up Iran's feudal system with a land reform law that will affect 10,000 villages and thousands of peasants.

Premier Ali Amini's cabinet approved the law Wednesday night in a major move to curb Communist influence in Iran.

It will go into effect after signature by the Shah, now vacationing on the Caspian Sea.

The land reform, if effective, will split up the huge estates of landlords who own entire villages and whose peasants are virtual serfs.

Agriculture Minister Hassan Arsanjani said landlords will be permitted to retain ownership of only one village each.

The law, he said, will initially apply to those owning more than 5 villages each and 10,000 villages will be affected.

Landowners will be compensated by the government and their properties will be sold on long-term instalments to landless peasants.

Later, Arsanjani said, the law will extend to landlords owning two to 5 villages and this will affect 7,000 hamlets.

The Shah ordered Premier Amini to get started on land reform last November. The new law will be submitted to the majlis (parliament), dissolved since last May, when that body reconvenes.

Hoxha Praised By China's Mao

Belgrade, Yugoslavia (AP) — Mao Tze-tung, Chinese Communist Party leader, sent a telegram to Enver Hoxha, Albanian party leader wishing him "new successes in the struggle against imperialism and contemporary revisionism."

In a telegram thanking the Albanian party chief for birthday greetings, Mao expressed his desire for "an eternal fighting and fraternal friendship between the Chinese and Albanian parties and peoples." Tanjung, Yugoslav news agency quoted a broadcast of the Albanian radio on the exchange.

"It is not a bad new year at all, at all. Some remarkable inventions have been invented by man, necessity being the mother of and all that sort of thing.

The Christmas tree came down a week ago. But as we stripped the ornaments (busting a couple naturally) it occurred to me that I did not have a single candy cane on it.

No striped candy cane at all. What happened to candy canes? Was a time when a tree would have been a nudist without a cane.

☆ ☆ ☆

This all comes to mind because the candy cane business was just getting into high gear. Thanks to inventive minds.

(It is my opinion that inventions are not mothered by necessity. They just get invented because men like to fool around—like children with a home chemistry set.)

Anyway, only a coupie of years ago, Mr. William H. Genich of Racine, Wis., was sitting around the family scatter. A great thought struck him.

"Who bends the handles on candy canes?"

This never hit me when I was biting off peppermint chunks. I just took it for granted. Candy canes had an umbrella handle because canes always have such handles.

☆ ☆ ☆

Not so with Genich. He immediately sat down and invented a machine to bend such handles on candy canes.

The machine takes the barber-pole striped stick while it is warm. It bends a handle on it as nice as you could ask for.

Now we are organized for mass production. Free enterprise, etc.

What happens? Candy canes apparently went out of style. At least I did not see any and did not have one.

☆ ☆ ☆

My own flings at invention have been peculiar. In my inventive youth somebody gave me a home chemistry set.

I invented a polishing powder to take up where Duz left off.

"Duz does everything," the ad says. However it (Duz) does not take off the enamel in a tub.

My powdered cleanser did. Removed dirt and enamel and left a stain that existed forever.

☆ ☆ ☆

Are you troubled by garfish? There is a wire snare that traps garfish.

If you have a dog, he will be happy with a mechanical dog feeder—for the Dog That Has Everything.

The dog puts his paw on the feeder. It then grinds out a balanced ration of horsemeat, kibble and all other things dogs love so well.

You can put a nickel in a slot and get enough pure oxygen to cure a hangover.

Ah, will wonders never cease?

☆ ☆ ☆

One fine thing about inventions is they are all machines. Even thinking machines. And on TV there was a play in which the machines began taking over the world.

They out-thought the people who invented them.

Suppose the candy cane machine got to thinking too hard. It thinks: "Why should I do all the work?"

It turns — you understand this is my idea for a TV series—and grasps the inventor, Genich.

It puts a bend in him like a candy cane.

While he is still warm, naturally.

Rep. Martin Files For Re-election

Rep. David Martin of Kearney filed Wednesday for re-election to Congress in the new 3rd congressional district.

Serving his initial term in Congress, Martin is a former Republican state chairman.

He attended Kearney public schools and Dartmouth College.

He owns the Martin Lumber Co. in Kearney.

Martin is opposed in the primary by Don Glantz, a former all-conference guard for the University of Nebraska.

Glantz filed for the post in the new 3rd district on Nov. 8. A sales manager for a Central City feed grain company, he is making his debut in statewide politics.

Invitation Pondered

Cairo (AP) — The weekly El Youssef says an official invitation to Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy to visit Egypt's archaeological sites is under consideration. The paper added such a visit could take place in the spring after the President's wife tours India and Pakistan.

73 Engineers, Three Architects Pass Exam

Names of individuals who successfully passed examinations given last fall by the Nebraska State Board of Examiners for Professional Engineers and Architects were announced Wednesday by Roy M. Green, board secretary.

Three passed the exams for professional architects, 39 for professional engineers, and 34 for engineers in training.

The new professional architects include Harold J. Brockman, John H. Rump and James S. Tighe, all of Omaha.

Those passing the exams:

Professional Engineers

Attorney's Death Cuts Off Hearing; Ex-Rep. Starnes

Washington (UPI) — Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) examiner W. W. Peck cut short a hearing on proposed reductions in grain shipment rates after the death of a participating attorney.

Former Rep. Joseph Starnes (D-Ala.) 66, died shortly after he collapsed as the afternoon session started.

Starnes, a 10-year veteran of Congressional service who was defeated for renomination in 1944, represented the city of Guntersville, Ala.

The former Congressman made an impassioned speech during a lawyers' argument as the session started. He sat down and moments later collapsed in his chair. He was a veteran of both world wars.

Peck ordered the hearing resumed Wednesday morning.

Durante Refuses To Reveal Identity Of Mrs. Calabash

Los Angeles (AP)—Jimmy Durante refused, even under oath, to reveal the identity of Mrs. Calabash.

For years on radio his signoff was "—and good night, Mrs. Calabash, wherever you are."

The comedian was on the witness stand in superior court, testifying against two men charged with burglarizing his home last July 2.

"Dat's a secret," Jimmy replied, and not even the judge pressed the point.

A Lesser Post

Stocks' Skid Brings Forth A Big 'Why?'

By RIP WATSON

New York (AP)—Despite rosy predictions, the Stock Market has plummetted since the start of the year.

Billions of dollars have been lopped off the listed value of stocks.

Popular averages which trace the market's course have shown a clear decline. Prominent blue chip issues and deflated 1961 "glamor" issues alike have hit the skids.

All this has been in addition to the failure of the traditional "yearend" rally to materialize.

The big question is: Why?

Variety Of Explanations

Brokers, analysts, researchers, customer's men, partners and others up and down the Wall Street hierarchy offer a variety of explanations for the decline in the face of a generally bright business picture.

Prominently mentioned by most is the psychological effect of the Page 1 publicity given the Securities and Exchange Commission's severe criticism of the American Stock Exchange for "manifold and prolonged abuses" of its rules.

This has caused traders to worry about tighter, restrictive legislation of all securities markets and, they claim, also frightened some less experienced investors who are in the market for the first time.

Investment Switch

Some of the latter, brokers said, may have decided to pull their money out of stocks and switch into savings institutions, which just now are battling for investors' attention with interest rate hikes. This switching even may extend to such sophisticated investors as mutual funds.

Savings accounts offering 4% income have become more attractive because the yield of many stocks (what the investor gets in dividends in relation to the market price) is 2% or even below. In some cases, this is due to dividends rising at a slower rate than the price during 1961.

Spectacular increases by individual issues during 1961 has led to cashing of profits by traders as well as mutual funds, observers said. Profits taken now do not have to report on income tax statements until April, 1963.

O'Neill's Idea

New York (AP) — Director Paul Shyre hopes to carry out a repertory theater project which playwright Eugene O'Neill suggested in 1926. Deploring the absence of a company to revive works of the Nobel Prize dramatist, Shyre envisions a two-season schedule which O'Neill outlined in a letter to a friend. Included would be works by Shakespeare and Strindberg as well as O'Neill.

Man Who Spent Half His Life In Pen Gets 'Last Chance'

Nebraska's Pardon Board Wednesday granted a conditional parole to 58-year-old Harry Dunn, who admitted spending half his life in prison and asked for a "last chance" to try to make good in the world.

Dunn's was one of 11 cases heard at the State Penitentiary.

Dunn, sentenced in Nov., 1951, for a Lincoln drugstore robbery, had served over 10 years of his 25-year sentence.

He received support in his plea from Richardson County Sheriff Irvin Gates and Omaha attorney Rudy Tesar who told the board of their conviction that the prisoner — who has served time on 7 felony convictions dating back to 1926 — could now go straight.

The board, made up of Gov. Frank Morrison, Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer, and Secretary of State Frank Marsh, granted the parole under the condition that Dunn not be released from the penitentiary until they had personally reviewed and approved his parole plan.

Plea Is Denied

The board denied the plea of Robert G. Edwards, 26, for parole from his 20-year sentence for rape of a 7-year-old Pierce County child in 1955.

Seven Pierce County residents appeared at the hearing, including the child's parents, to oppose Edwards' parole.

Cooper Lee, 53, sentenced to an aggregate of 120 years in 1945 for his part in the robbery of an Omaha taxicab driver and his woman passenger, and rape of the woman, won a commutation of one 50-year robbery sentence to commence serving a second 50-year sentence for robbery.

Elvin L. Keene, 33, sentenced to life imprisonment for the 1948 robbery-slaying of an Omaha cab driver was given a commutation from the indeterminate life term to a 45-year term.

Parole Granted

Parole to Baltimore, Md., was granted 26-year-old Ellis R. Conaway who was given a 5-year manslaughter sentence in Dec., 1959 for the knife slaying of an Omaha man whom he found in the company of Conaway's wife.

Other Parole Board actions included:

Merlin J. Trinajstick, 41, Omaha, sentenced to 15 years for robbery from Douglas County, Oct., 1955, paroled as of April 1.

Thomas Wortham Jr., 34, Kalamazoo, Mich., sentenced to 10 years for forgery of endorsement from Douglas County, Oct., 1958, sentence commuted to detained from Michigan law enforcement officials.

William R. Overdorff, 56, Grand Island, sentenced to two years for embezzlement Jan. 4, 1961, from Hall County, paroled.

Norman C. Behrends, 37, Beatrice, sentenced to 4-6 years for no-fund check and violation of bench parole, July, 1959, from Jefferson County, paroled.

Earl E. Sullivan, 18, Wahoo, sentenced to 3-year term for auto theft, July, 1960, from Seward County, paroled.

Kenneth Kitts, 44, sentenced to 12 years for burglary, possession of burglary tools, and being a habitual criminal, March 28, 1951 in Douglas County, (served approximately 3 months of sentence), commutation of sentence denied, attorney general instructed to negotiate with federal prison authorities, Leavenworth, Kan., for immediate return of Kitts to Nebraska to complete his Nebraska sentence and finish his federal term at the Nebraska State Penitentiary.

Lippmann Says He Knows Why World Frustrated

Washington (AP)—Walter Lippmann said "the root of the frustration and confusion which torment us" is that "We do not have any other reliable way of dealing with issues that used to be resolved by war."

"It is enormously difficult to make peace," the veteran newspaper columnist said in a speech prepared for the Women's National Press Club. "It is intolerably dangerous and useless to make war . . . "

He added:

"For as long a time as we can see into the future, we shall be living between a war that cannot be fought and a peace that cannot be achieved. The great issues which divide the world cannot be decided by a war that could be won, and they cannot be settled by a treaty that can be negotiated."

The world today, Lippmann said, "is divided as it has not been since the religious wars of the 17th century and a large part of the globe is in a great upheaval, the like of which has not been known since the end of the Middle Ages . . .

"President Eisenhower and President Kennedy are the only two American Presidents who ever lived in a world like this one . . . There are no clear guidelines of action because there are no precedents for the situation . . . "

"The poor dears among us who say that they have had enough of all this talking and negotiating and now let us drop the bomb, have no idea of what they are talking about," Lippmann said. " . . . They belong to the past . . . Only a moral idiot with a suicidal mania would press the button for a nuclear war."

Yet, he said, although nuclear war "would be lunacy," it still is a possibility.

"There is a line of intolerable provocation beyond which reactions become uncontrollable," Lippman continued. "It is the business of the governments to find out where that line is, and to stay well back of it.

Lippmann predicted a long struggle between the Western and communist worlds similar to "the long centuries of conflict between Christendom and Islam."

The future of the Western world, Lippmann said, depends on the Atlantic community. The key to victory over communism, he said, is in united action by free people.

Stahr Tests New Machine Gun

Secretary of the Army Elvis J. Stahr Jr., left, fires a few short bursts on the Army's new M60 light machine gun during his visit to Fort Riley, Kan. Wednesday.

ALGERIAN REBEL GOVERNMENT GIRDING FOR RENEWED BATTLE

Casablanca (AP)—The Algerian rebel government in exile announced it has taken new but undisclosed measures to intensify its 7-year-old war for independence.

The measures particularly concern the fight against European right wingers of the secret army organization, who are determined to prevent independence and keep Algeria a part of France.

The rebel announcement following a 4-day meeting of their regime showed that secret talks with the French for a cease-fire in Algeria have not yet succeeded.

But a communique said the regime is ready to sign an agreement which would permit "a loyal and sincere application of the Algerian people's right to self-determination and independence, coupled with all the necessary guarantees for the Algerian people as well as for the legitimate interests of France and for the Europeans in Algeria."

The subject of such guarantees for France and the European minority has been one major stumbling block in negotiations. Observers here saw no sign that the rebels have moved toward the French position on this issue.

Rebel ministers said little progress has been accomplished in their contacts with France since the collapse of the formal negotiations last July.

The rebels and France remain apart on such issues as guarantees for French interests in an independent Algeria, and the preparation for the self-determination vote which is the basis of French President Charles de Gaulle's policy.

At the same time, right-wing terrorists in France and Algeria have led many rebel leaders to doubt that the French government could carry out a compromise agreement in Algeria.

Luebke Visits Madrid

Madrid (UPI) — West German President Heinrich Luebke stopped here briefly en route to Africa for a 10-day visit that will include Liberia, Senegal and Guinea.

Goulart Approves News Rules Plan

Brasilia (UPI) — President Joao oGulart Wednesday approved recommendations of his legal staff for regulating activities and functions of foreign news agencies and correspondents in Brazil.

A work group was assigned to draft a decree for presidential signature to regulate "the functioning centers for the collection of news for newspapers, radio and television."

Stocks Fail To Hold Gain

New York (AP) — The stock market failed to hold a slim early advance and dipped again Wednesday in moderate trading.

Biggest feature of the day was news that Ford directors had proposed a 2-for-1 stock split and raised dividend. The split has been rumored for several weeks and traders "sold on the news."

Ford dropped 4 points to 110¾ on turnover of 117,400 shares, making it the most active stock. Ford had risen 2½ in the previous session on trading heavy enough to make it the 6th most active stock. The actual news of the split, therefore, was well discounted, not only Tuesday but in the past.

The market's early advance was on very slack volume and therefore unconvincing. The day's decline was the 6th of seven 1962 sessions in which the average has fallen.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 1.62 to 706.2.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined .70 to 255.10 with industrials off 1.30, rails up .50 and utilities off .70.

Volume shrank to 3.3 million shares from 3.6 million Tuesday.

In a list of 1,279 issues traded, 552 declined and 452 advanced. New highs for 1961-62 totaled 9 and new lows 19.

Rails once again provided a fairly bright feature, mounting a string of moderate advances early in the day.

Ten of the 15 most active stocks declined. 4 advanced and one was unchanged.

U.S. Steel and Bethlehem were fractional losers in a mixed steel group. A 2-point loss by Southern California Edison depressed utilities.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds improved slightly. U.S. government bonds declined.

Volume on corporates dipped to $5.72 million par value from $6.42 million Tuesday.

Oakland Schools Drop Bible Study, But 'With Regret'

The Oakland public schools have voluntarily discontinued their once-a-week program of Biblical character study, State Education Commissioner Freeman Decker has been informed.

The Oakland program has been undergoing scrutiny recently to determine whether it is sectarian in nature and thus unconstitutional.

The Rev. James Dawson, school superintendent for Lincoln's Roman Catholic diocese, reported last week after reviewing pamphlets used in the program that he regarded the classes as sectarian.

Discontinuance of the program by the Oakland Board of Education was ordered "with a great deal of regret," the board said.

Journal and Star

Want Ads

Your low-cost Want Ad appears daily in the Lincoln Star (Morning) and the Lincoln Journal (Evening) or the Sunday Journal and Star at the following cash rates:

Words	Lines	DAYS 1	4	7	10
—10	2	.80	2.56	3.64	4.00
11-15	3	1.05	3.60	5.25	5.70
16-20	4	1.32	4.64	6.44	7.20
21-25	5	1.60	5.60	8.05	9.00
26-30	6	1.86	6.48	9.24	10.20
31-35	7	2.10	7.28	10.29	11.90

These low-cost rates apply to Want Ads which are placed for consecutive days and are paid for within 10 days after the ad expires or is canceled.

Single paper rates either evening Journal or morning Star, are 93% of the combination rates. These ads would appear under "Too Late To Classify" column.

DEADLINES FOR FAMILY WANT ADS—Lincoln Journal (Evening)—Call before 10 a.m. Monday through Saturday for publication the same day. Lincoln Star (Morning)—Call before 6 p.m. Monday through Friday for publication on following day. Call before 5 p.m. Saturdays for Monday morning publication. Sunday Journal and Star—Call anytime before 1 p.m. on Saturdays for publication Sunday.

ERRORS: Advertisers should check their ad on first insertion and report any errors at once. Dial GRover 7-8902.

ADJUSTMENTS: The company is responsible for typographical errors or misclassification only to cancel the first day's charge on that portion of an ad that may be rendered valueless by that error. All ads will be classified properly.

AD ANSWER: Answers your phone when you can't. To have this service, include your own phone number and the words "or call Ad Answer GR 7-7873" in your ad. Dial GRover 7-7873 to receive names and phone numbers taken in your absence.

BLIND BOX SERVICE: There is a 50c additional charge for this confidential service. When using a Blind Box Number, add 4 additional words to your Want Ad copy, figure the charges from the above table and add 50c for Blind Box Service Charges.

OFFICE HOURS: Daily, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday, 9 a.m. to 12 noon.
